THE COALITION COMPLETE.

In the State of New York the coalition between the democrats and the conservative republicans is taking definite shape. The democrats call the State Nominating Convention, and the conservatives are expected to co-operate by sending delegates. In this way the arrangement is consummated.

This happens in New York rather than in Pennsylvania because in the former the nominations are made much later than in the latter, partly for the reason that the election is held nearly a month farther in the season.

But it is no longer a secret that in Pennsylvania the conservatives are co-operating as absolutely with the democrats as in New York. They will all vote for CLYMER, and for the district and county democratic candidates. This is preliminary to a joint effort to elect a President two years hence; though, before that time shall arrive all distinction between democrats and conservatives will be obliterated. Doubtless the new name adopted at Philadelphia will be dropped, and the old designation of the democratic party be retained.

This result we foreshadowed last January. It was just as apparent to our apprehension then, notwithstanding the pertinacious disclaimers of the President and his confidents, and the asseverations that they meant to fight out the quarrel inside the republican party, as it is to-day. It was manifest the President was not sincere in in his protestations; that they were only made to deceive the unwary, and draw them into his plot; and that he only waited the progress of events to throw off the mask and reveal his perfidy. That he has now done. The republicans know the worst that can befall, and are prepared to meet it. The democrats will use the President for two years, and then let him slide as they did TYLER and FILLMORE.

* * *

COL. H. C. BLACKMAN, of Lebanon, O., will speak for the Republican cause at Beaver, on the 11th instant, at New Castle on the 12th, and at Brownsville on the 14th. He is an old Pennsylvanian, having years ago been a resident of Wilkesbarre. He is a lawyer of excellent standing. He was in the army nearly four years, three of which he was Judge Advocate of the government at Nashville, Tennessee, and tried all the principal cases, among them Champ Furguson, the noted guerrilla, who was condemned and executed, and Gurley, the assassin of General McCook, who was tried and convicted, but pardoned by President Johnson, and is now a Sheriff in Northern Alabama.

Col. Blackman knows his "Accidency" well, and in common with all the men we have conversed with, who served in Tennessee, so as to come in contact with him, and know of what stuff he is actually made, does not rate his unconditional loyalty very high. The Colonel has been invited to address the meeting in Allegheny on the 13th, and will doubtless comply.

* * *

SOME of the Conservatives, like the REV. H. W. BEECHER, still profess to be in favor of admitting only loyal men to seats in Congress. That is precisely what the Radicals are trying to make certain. See what the third section of the Constitutional Amendment says:

SECTION 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; but Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Pass that Amendment and the disloyal will have to stay out. Nothing is surer. When people oppose this Amendment it looks as if they wanted the rebels to get in. Else, why oppose?

IT appears arrangements had been made at Chicago to have the public reception of the President take place in the Rooms of the Board of Trade. As this Board is composed of men of all political parties, and as the object of the Association is purely commercial, one of their rules rigorously prohibits the use of their Rooms for political speakers. As the President has seen fit to violate all the rules of courtesy by obtruding heated political harangues into the receptions given him, the Board feel they cannot allow the reception to take place on their premises.

The democratic organs of the city, as regardless of the property rights of the owners of the Hall as the proprieties of the occasion, urge that forcible possession be taken of the building, and that if need be, a mob be called in to sustain the using of the Hall against consent.

This is a fair exhibition of conservatism. To what extent it will be pushed, and what will be the result, a brief space will tell.

* * *

THE Republican Committee of Crawford county, by a nearly unanimous vote, have entered public protest against the nomination of Mr. D. A. Finney for Congress, and requested him to decline.

The Greenville, (Mercer county) Argus expresses the opinion that Mr. Finney ought to withdraw.

* * *

IT has been determined at Chicago that if the President descends from the dignity of his official position to make a partizan harangue that he shall be answered on the spot by counter speeches from the members of the Board of Trade.

* * *

THE editor of the Sunbury American was in our City Hall meeting on Tuesday of last week. In his account of it he says:

"The great speech was that of Mr. Williams, one of the ablest men in Congress, who deals only in facts and logic."

* * *

THE Democrats of Lycoming have nominated Hon. James Gamble, of Jersey Shore, for Congress, and Hon. Charles D. Eldred, of Williamsport, for the Assembly.

* * *

THE Republicans of Lebanon county have nominated G. Dawson Coleman for the State Senate, and Captain Jacob Cheily for Assembly.

* * *

HON. C. FOGLE, of Brookville, is the Union candidate for Assembly in Jefferson county, and James McKay in Forrest county.

* * *

GEN. GRANT and ADMIRAL FARRAGUT have left the Presidential cortege, evidently thinking it no place for them.

* * *

IN BUTLER, the Democrats have nominated John T. Bard for Congress, and Robert McNair for the Assembly.

A Good Article
Of pure Holland Gin is about as good as onehalf the Patent Medicines, provided you get a genuine article, and a great deal more palatable. We are led to these remarks from having purchased a Bottle of Gin at Fleming's Drug Store, No. 48 Market street, and we are now satisfied that we knew not what good Gin was until we tried this.

Reward.
Disappeared from No. 246 Penn street, on the evening of the 1st inst., Dr. C. Sill, of laughing gas notoriety. Supposed to have gone to the Convention at Philadelpaia, he having previously contracted to furnish the gas for that occasion. While I regret to deprive the Convention of his valuable services, yet owing to the constant press of business at the "White House," I am compelled to demand his immediate return. Any one returning him at once to No. 246 Penn street will be liberally rewarded by a tooth extraction under the influence of laughing gas. M. E. Gillespie.

The Laws of Health.
It is useless for State Legislatures to pass laws for the preservation of the public health, if the great law of self-preservation, which depends for its enforcement upon the will of the individual, is suffered to remain a dead letter.

There is scarcely an adult member of the community, of either sex, in this country, who has not seen the testimony in favor of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, furnished over their own signatures by persons of acknowledged eminence in science, literature art, commerce, and every department of business and professional life. These witnesses have declared in the most explicit terms that the preparation is a safeguard against epidemics, a sovereign remedy for dyspepsia, a valuable anti-bilious medicine, a promoter of appetite, a genial and harmless stimulant, a good acclimating medicine, a strengthener of the nerves, a general invigorant, a protection against the deleterious effects of malaria and impure water, and that it imparts a degree of vigor and activity to the vital forces which is not communicated by any other of the tonics and stomachics in use. Under these circumstances the self-preservative law of nature should teach every rational person who, either by reason of inherent debility or in consequence of exposure to unwholesome influences, is in peril of losing the greatest of all temporal blessings, HEALTH, the importance of using the BITTERS as a defensive medicine. Dyspeptics who neglect to give it a trial are simply their own enemies. It is guaranteed to cure Indigestion in all its forms, and the bilious and nervous will find nothing in the whole range of official and proprietary medicines which will afford them the same relief.

Hostetter's Bitters
Are sold wholesale and retail at very low rates at Fleming's Drug and Patent Medicine Depot, No. 84 Market street, corner of the Diamond and Market, near Fourth street.

Address of the Radical State Executive Committee—Military Protection Called for Against Rebels and Guerillas.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 4.—The Radical State Executive Committee has issued an address to the Union men of Missouri, and all friends of law and order, strongly urging them to unite for the maintenance of the laws and suppression of attempts, from whatever source, to subvert the Government and inaugurate a second civil war, which is apprehended, in consequence of recent incendiary publications in the opposition papers, calling upon their party friends to organize, arm and prepare themselves for war. The address says the pretext for these appeals is founded upon the fact, that Gov. Fletcher recently ordered half a dozen companies of militia into service at the urgent requests of the Sheriffs of the counties in which the troops were stationed, for the protection of the lives and property of Union men against the lawless acts of rebel guerillas and other outlaws.

Democratic Nominations in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, September 4.—The Democratic and Johnson men, in Convention to-day, nominated George H. Pendleton for Congress in the first district, and Theodore Cook in the second district.

Mr. Pendleton, in accepting the nomination, approved of the action of the Philadelphia National Union Convention, and said the result of the war had decided the doctrine of secession and southern people by the action of their State Conventions, and by the unanimous declaration of their delegates at Philadelphia have abandoned it as a rule of political action, and the basis of political organization. The institution of slavery was also involved in the conflict of arms, and it too under the action of the Southern States had passed away forever. He advocated the absolute restoration of the Union upon no other conditions than those prescribed by the Constitution, and for the immediate admission of the Southern States to their right of representation.

Cholera in Cincinnati Nearly Disappeared—Damages by Heavy Rain Storms—Several Bridges Washed Away—The Steamer Revenue Sunk.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 4.—Cholera has nearly disappeared from the city, only thirteen deaths having occurred since Saturday.

The storm on Saturday and Sunday nights did considerable damage throughout this section. Deer creek and Mill creek valleys were completely inundated. Elk river bridge on the Hamilton and Dayton Railroad, was carried away; also two bridges on the Eaton and Hamilton road.

The Cincinnati and Big Sandy packet Revenue, bound for Cincinnati with two hundred tons of iron, sunk near Buena Vista, in the Ohio river, on Friday last. She was insured for $25,000. Her cargo will probably be recovered. No lives lost.

Gen. Butler Requested to Run for Congress.

BOSTON, Sept. 4.—Several hundred leading Republicans in the Fifth District have presented a written request to General Ben. F. Butler to accept a nomination for Congress. The General consents, and says: "The political opinions upon which I shall act, have been very recently declared, so that it can hardly be necessary to recapitulate them here. They may be summed up in a few words. To all men just equality of rights, and equality of protection under the laws. That is the government of loyal and not of disloyal men. Wherever these, to me, axioms of political truth may lead, I shall follow."

Arrival of Steamer Scotia.

Cholera in St. Louis—Reception of the President's Party.

ST. LOUIS, September 4.—The deaths from cholera on Saturday were fifty-six.

Extensive preparations are on foot for the reception of President Johnson on Saturday. The Merchants' Exchange will co-operate with the city authorities and other parties, in giving the presidential party a suitable welcome.

No quotable change is apparent in the general market since yesterday.

Death of Commodore Lawrence Rosseau.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 4.—Commodore Lawrence Rosseau, formerly of the United States Navy, afterwards of the Confederate States Navy, died to-day, aged seventy-six years. He was buried without parade, but the funeral was attended by a large concourse of the most respectable citizens.

The cholera deaths yesterday were eighteen.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM AND CHEERING.

PHILADELPHIA, September 4.—The Southern delegates assembled at ten o'clock. Rev. Mr. Matlack opened the proceedings with prayer. Mr. E. Washburne, of Georgia, made a report from the Committee on Credentials, that the Convention receive the report of the delegation from each State as final as to the qualification of its members.

Texas reports 15 delegates, Tennessee, [illegible]; Virginia, 61; West Virginia, [illegible]; Georgia, [illegible]; Alabama, [illegible]; Kentucky, 13; Mississippi, 3; Missouri, 30; Arkansas, 2; North Carolina, 7; Maryland, 60; Delaware, 6; Florida,—; Louisiana, [illegible]. Total, 392. The report was accepted.

Mr. Fletcher, of Tennessee, from the Committee on Permanent Organization, made the following report:

For President—James Speed, of Kentucky.

Vice Presidents—E. M. Pease, of Texas; Anthony Fernandez, of Louisiana; Joseph W. Field, of Mississippi; D. H. Bingham, of Alabama; Col. G. B. Hart, of Florida; Joseph H. Glover, of Kentucky; F. Strong, of Missouri; H. Cole, of Georgia; Rev. Hope Raine, of North Carolina; Hon. John Minor Botts, of Virginia; Gov. A. J. Boreman, of West Virginia; Gov. W. G. Brownlow, of Tennessee; Gen. Jas. Gerhardt, District of Columbia; Hon. T. A. Crosswell, of Maryland; A. A. C. Rogers, of Arkansas; Thos. B. Cowersey, of Delaware.

Secretaries—Samuel C. Mercer, of Tennessee; Colonel Western Flint, of Missouri; John Ensor, of Maryland; Henry W. Davis, of Mississippi; Colonel Charles C. Gill, of Kentucky; C. G. Baylor, of Georgia; J. W. Wynne, of North Carolina; John F. Adams, of Delaware; Judge W. J. Safford, of Alabama; Dr. J. K. Gromer, of Virginia; F. W. Boyd, of West Virginia; Jesse Sterrel, of Texas; Peter A. Fennerly, of Arkansas; E. H. Eristord, of Louisiana; John W. Price, of Florida; D. R. [illegible], of the District of Columbia.

Chaplain—Rev. John E. Newman, of Louisiana.

On the President taking the Chair he was received with great applause.

Mr. Speed said,

Gentlemen of the Convention and Loyal men of the South, here assembled:

I thank you cordially for the compliment you have paid me in calling on me to preside over the deliberations of this body. I feel that you could have called a worthier man, one who has been more thoroughly tried than I have; I take the position however and will discharge the functions and duties of the office to the best of my ability. In my time, Gentlemen, I have received some honors, and I have borne them, I think, meekly. I feel in my heart that the honor conferred upon me to-day by this Convention of voluntarily associated Southern men, devoted to their country and to freedom, is the highest honor that I have ever yet received. (Applause.) I feel as you feel that we are assembled here upon a grand and a great occasion, and at a great time. Why are we here, gentlemen? Why is it that many of us have come from far distant portions of this country? Not at the command of or upon the suggestion of those in power, but we have come of our own accord, we have come at our own expense. Why is it, I say, that we are here? Why is it that we have come to the good old city of Philadelphia? (Applause.) And also I ask you all why and how is it that when we had come here, the loyal hearts of this loyal people, so stirred, they turned out and almost by millions to greet us! Why this spectacle? Did they come out simply for the purpose of seeing a reed shaken by the wind? Did they come out simply for the purpose of seeing frail men, who are to-day, but may not be to-morrow; who have had their trials in the past and expect them in the future? They turned out to receive us and meet us somewhat upon our own accounts, personally, it may be, but mainly and chiefly because we are representatives of a great truth. It was not to us men as much as it was to the principles that we represent. (Applause.) It was because, in our past lives, we had shown a devotion to principles, and because we were here for the purpose of renewing, upon the altar of liberty, in this ancient city, and among these loyal people, our pledges, and of declaring our purpose to stand by the principles upon which this government is founded. (Applause.)

I beg you gentlemen in the deliberations of this Convention to bear this great fact in mind, let it control your thoughts, let it control your actions, and your thoughts be free, firm, clear, and dignified, loving and merciful. (Applause.) What principle is it then that we represent, why is it that we are here, why is it that we receive such an ovation upon our coming? Why is it and how is it that the people of this great nation are stirred now as they rarely have been stirred heretofore?

Just think of it. Less than eighteen months ago in this country, more than a million of men were arrayed in arms hostile to each other. The passions which lead to bloodshed, and the passions which are consequent upon the flowing of human blood, were there ripe and these swayed and controlled alike individuals and communities. The whole country was awake, the whole country was as it were, in great throes of excitement, hearing the tread and march of great armies and listening to the cries from the battle fields, or awaiting the news of severe battles to follow. Then the country was stirred, then the country was excited, but the great army of the Republic—that army which had consecrated itself to Constitutional liberty, and the establishment of freedom—that noble band of patriots and warriors has performed the task assigned to them, and nobly did they do their work. (Applause.) They disarmed traitors, dispersed the hostile bands and destroyed the civil governments of the rebellion, and having taken the arms from the hands of traitors within our limits, the army of patriot warriors disappeared, and they are again patriotic citizens. Undistinguished they sit in the crowd, without epaulettes, without badges and without uniforms. (Applause.) They, as everybody else, appeal to the ballot-box. (Applause.) They appeal to the regular, ordinary and peaceful agencies of this Government for the purpose of accomplishing the remainder of the work. (Applause.)

The soldiers of our army, in common with all good men, never wish to see war again. (Applause.) But the soldiers from the army, as all good men, whilst wishing never again to see war, whilst they wish to see peace established upon principles permanent and sure—not a seeming peace—they wish principles established whose origin is in that truth in the bosom of God himself; that is, the principle of equal justice, equal rights, equal security to every human being within the jurisdiction of the United States. (Great applause.)

The Southern men who have seen this great sin of slavery, which some said paradoxically was the corner stone of Republican institutions, and say we southern men who have seen the sin of slavery, do know, not only historically, but we do know experimentally, that it must perish from the face of the earth. (Applause.) We are here then, and the country feels it every where, in the interests of this principle all the country feels it. Our adversaries feel it.

Since armed rebellion was put down a Convention has been held in this place, with which I could not act, and with which you could not act. I was glad to see it meet. Why was it here? It was here, in part, because a great cry came up from the white men of the South, my Constitutional rights and my natural rights are denied me. A great cry came up from the black men of the South, my Constitutional rights and my natural rights are denied me. This was a great complaint, a complaint founded earnestly, and made sincerely on both sides, and directly antagonistic the one to the other. It is right there should be these conventions.

The Convention of the 14th of August came up here because of that great cry. The Convention of to-day is here because of that great cry, and that is right. (Applause.) That is for the Convention to say. Upon that question if upon none other, as Southern men speak out your minds. (Applause.) Speak the truth as you feel. (Applause.) Speak the truth as you know it. (Applause.) Speak the truth as you feel for your country. Speak the truth as you love permanent peace, and as you hope to see the foundations of this Government, so that our children and our children's children shall enjoy a peace that we have not known. I tell you unless you do this, there can be no peace. (Applause.)

Gentlemen, I said that but a short time ago, a convention was held in this city. That convention, to my mind, did not do much, or rather omitted to do much that was good, but it was not wholly unmixed with good. That convention, as I read its history, came here and simply recorded, and nothing more, in Quaker like silence an abject submission. That convention recorded the commands of one man. (Applause.) That convention did what the loyal Congress of the United States refused to do. (Applause.) and if we ever have a Congress in this United States of America that does not resolutely and firmly refuse, as the present Congress has done, merely to be the Recording Secretary of the occupant of the White House, American liberty is gone forever. (Applause.) In my mind, it is important that Congress should be commended in this particular, for that reason, independently of all the other merits of the question, and for the reason that they have thought for themselves, they have spoken for themselves; they have stood up against all sorts of influence, for that which they believed and knew to be right.

Sorry for the dead silence, sorry for the want of thought and speech, that marked that Convention, and, feeling as I do, that posterity must condemn, still, as I said, its doings were not unmixed of good. What good was there in what it did?

Gentlemen, you all know that we have had in this country an old, defiant, proud and haughty party, quondam Democrats, quondam Copperheads. To my apprehension the main features of that party ever has been that it was crusted all over with prejudice, keeping out the light of truth and the light of day. Among other prejudices for years has been this; that slavery was a divine institution; that all the incidents of slavery were divine, that it was a sacred thing; that it should not be discussed, and that it should not be spoken of. It was a household god. This was the creed, this was the conduct of this late defiant and proud party. Well, that party comes up here to the 14th of August Convention, that party, for the men of that party constituted a vast majority of that Convention.

Now mark, gentlemen, that in one of the resolutions of that Convention it is distinctly said that slavery is abolished and must never be re-established. (Applause.) I ask you, then, if this old Democratic party has not struck its colors, and bowed in humble submission to the Republican principles. (Applause.) There is some good in that. (Applause.) It marks an event in the progress of human freedom.

At the Convention held in Baltimore in 1864, which nominated Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Johnson, it was announced that slavery should be extirpated, not abolished, merely extirpated, taken out of our institutions root and branch, body and soul, every lineament and every fibre of it.

Mark, gentlemen, the difference between the two words, one to exterpate—not simply to cast off another limb of this horrible monster, but to take out, not only slavery, but all the incongruous unrighteousness and unequal consequences and incidents that resulted from slavery. What are they? In the first place, unequal representation (Applause.) Does not slavery remain so long as there is a man, no matter what his color, unrepresented in the government? Does not slavery remain as long as you can, because of color, say to a man that he may not stand equal with his fellow-man in your courts of justice? All these incidents, the great Republican party pledged themselves at Baltimore should be extirpated, and you Southern men, were at the time, as it were, in the prison-house of the South. When this pledge came to you, it came as the sweetest and surest note you had ever heard. Let this be done, let this be done, and we will be content.

I call the attention of the Convention to the fact that every Southern State, North Carolina I believe excepted, has not of itself abolished slavery, but it has announced in its Constitution, that slavery has been abolished by the military power of the United States. It ought not to be re-established now. I call the attention of the Convention to this peculiar language as it struck me when used, and when I first saw it, several Southern gentlemen were in conversation with me. It struck me as carefully selected and used with a purpose that it should never be said to them, that they had assented to the abolition of slavery and that upon that they would hereafter come when represented in Congress, come to the Government and demand compensation for their emancipated slaves. (Cries of "that's so.")

It is not necessary for me to say before this Convention that they have no just right for compensation—(applause)—none on earth. (Applause.) Let them pay back to the Government the vast debts they have incurred because of their treason and rebellion, and it will pay for their slaves. (Applause.) But independently of that upon principle they are not entitled to payment. Then, gentlemen, this Convention ought to say to the people of this nation, if you want to be secure and safe in this matter, fix it down in the Constitution where not either Congress nor any department of the Government can touch it—that emancipated slaves are never to be paid for. (Applause.)

Those Southern people when they assembled to make their various Constitutions provided in their State Constitutions that their State rebel debt is not to be paid. Every Southerner here knows with what great reluctance they did it, that it required the positive command of the President and all the power of the Government to exact it of them, can be repealed by State action, they can by State action undo here, and have done and resume the payment of the debt, which they have now under coercion refused.

Let the loyal people of this nation see that it is written down in the fundamental law of the land, that no moneys shall be paid out of the coffers of the people, North or South, for the effort to destroy this government. (Applause.) Upon these subjects I think but upon the subject more particularly of equal and just representation. This Convention ought to speak out. Those Southern men complain that their constitutional and natural rights are infringed upon. If they complain fairly, say so. If they ask more than justice, deny it. They have a right to it. If they ask that the vote and power of a white man in South Carolina shall equal the vote and power of the white men in Pennsylvania, it is an injustice, and say so. (Applause.) If they ask less than justice, give them full measure. If they ask more than justice, deny it.

As to the disfranchisement of rebels, and the enfranchisement of the black people, this subject will come before this Convention. Upon this subject, gentlemen of the Convention, all I have to say is, do nothing in anger, do nothing from hatred; do nothing from ill-will or for revenge; but do that which Justice and Right and Mercy and Love, dictate (Applause) that which the [illegible]; that which the ungodly and bad man does from bad passions must perish from the face of the earth, whilst that which comes from the love, from mercy, from justice, must be eternal. Let love for mankind, not for yourself, not for this man or that man, but for all men; not for this color, or that color; let love for all mankind be your guide. Let it dictate your every relation. Let it be your motive. I tell you and tell you that such conduct will pour more bitter fire upon the heads and into the consciences of those opposed to you than all we can do from spite; all that we can do from illwill or any feeling of revenge. (Applause.)

Mr. Speed having concluded his address, Mr. Crane, of Louisiana, arose and said he held in his hand a communication from a citizen of Louisiana, who had been elected to the Convention. He was a citizen of African descent, one of the noblest specimens of his race, who certainly enjoyed the confidence of the delegation. He asked that the letter be read. The letter was sent to the Chair, but was not read.

Mr. Botts, of Virginia, moved that General Geary, who was present, be invited to take a seat on the platform. (Applause.) Adopted.

Mr. Burbank of Maryland—I move that those old heroes, Ben. Wade of Ohio, and Ben. Butler of Massachusetts, (great applause), be invited to take seats on the stand. Adopted.

Mr. Sands, of Maryland, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Convention proceed to the appointment of a Committee on Resolutions and Address, to consist of two members from each State and the District of Columbia, to be selected by the respective delegations, and that all the resolutions declaratory of principles be referred to the Committee on Resolutions without debate.

Mr. Newness, of Kentucky, spoke in favor of amending the above so as to make the Committee consist of one or two from each of the States.

Mr. Griffin, of Alabama, suggested that two committees be appointed, one on an address, and the other on resolutions.

Mr. Hamilton of Texas, opposed the resolution. It was especially objectionable, as its last words required reference without debate. He did not desire to see this Convention make itself objections, to which the Convention last assembled here was obnoxious. (Applause.) He was opposed to all attempts to gagging (Applause.)

Mr. Rodgers, of Arkansas, said he was opposed to gag laws here and elsewhere. He was in the Baltimore Convention and he saw gag law there and its effect in the nomination of Andrew Johnson. If there had been free discussion there, no such nominations would have been made.

He (Rogers) told a friend of his at that time, that Andrew Johnson was not the man for the party of progress in this country, and he said to Mr. Brownlow when the nomination was made, that we were sold out body and soul. He hoped therefore that there would be no gagging here.

After further discussion the words, "without debate," were stricken out, and the resolution was amended so as to provide for two committees.

PHILADELPHIA, September 4—LATER.—The Committee on Address, appointed by the Southern Convention, are in session to-night. It is generally understood that they will move upon a plan similar to the resolution offered by Mr. Creswell, of Maryland, to-day, viz: "That the plan of Congress shall be adopted; without any further restrictions, upon the States lately in rebellion, for the restoration of the Union."

Colonel Jack, of Brooklyn, offered the following, which was referred to the Committee on Resolutions:

Resolved, That a Committee of —— be appointed to confer with the Southern Loyalists Convention upon the expediency of now holding a National Union Convention.

A resolution was received and referred, stigmatizing the removal of Union men from office, and the appointment of rebels thereto on the principle of rotation in office, as a pretext for his treachery, and as a prostitution of official patronage for personal objects. It calls upon the whole people to sustain Congress, and upon the Committee of Retrenchment, to report a measure restricting the laws of removal to cases of neglect and omission, determinable by an impartial tribunal, also one denouncing Johnson's policy as absolutely treacherous.

Colvin Pepper, of Norfolk, offered the following, which was referred:

That as it is the opinion of very many men, and patriotic men, including men of distinguished legal acquirements and attainments, that no State has the legal power to disfranchise any portion of its citizens on account of color, it being anti-republican, and in violation of that provision of the Constitution of the United States which guarantees a republican form of government to all the States, therefore,

Resolved, That we approve of measures being taken to bring the question of Constitutional right and impartial suffrage up to the Supreme Court of the United States for final decision.

Speeches were made also by Lieut. Governor Bross, of Illinois, and Major Haggerty, of New York, after which the meeting adjourned.

LATEST.—Philadelphia, Sept. 5, 1 o'clock a. m.—The Committee on Resolutions of Southern delegates are progressing. It is understood that all are in favor of endorsing the plan of Congress. The following, without negro suffrage—Maryland, West Virginia, Delaware, Kentucky, Missouri, Mississippi, Florida, Tennessee, North Carolina and Arkansas. With negro suffrage—Texas, Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, District of Columbia and Louisiana.

The Virginia delegation shows a disposition to abandon the position on that question. It is possible that all will harmonize to-morrow.

The Gulf States desire negro suffrage, but will probably forego it.

The Creswell resolutions were endorsed and those of Judge Bond voted down by every State.

PHILADELPHIA, September 4.—The Northern delegations were to have met this morning in the Horticultural Hall, but the accommodations proving too small, it was resolved to have an open air meeting in front of the League House.

Governor Curtin presided.

On motion of Mr. Harris, of New Jersey, the report of the Reconstruction Committee of the last Congress was adopted.

Mr. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, moved that the Convention adjourn, to meet at the call of its Chairman, and in the meantime to attend the Southern Convention and cheer on its members.

The motion of Mr. Kelly to adjourn elicited much comment.

Mr. Harris, of New Jersey, submitted that it was not right to come here and depart without expressing some opinions. The President was appealing to the people against Congress, and they should now, as representatives of the north, adopt as a platform, the report of the Congressional Committees on Reconstruction, and fight it out on that line, if it took all summer. (Cheers.) The President had dared to designate Congress as the so-called Congress, and it was for them to stand by that Congress and that Committee. (Cheers.)

Mr. Scovil, of New Jersey, endorsed his colleague and pledged his State to do her whole duty in the coming election.

Governor Buckingham urged delay in passing the resolutions.

Gov. Morton hoped the loyal men of both North and South would yet meet in one Convention. If they went away without expressing the sense of the nation, people would ask what they had come for?

Mr. Kelly argued that they were not a national convention not elected by any constituency; and should therefore do the business they were sent to do, (cheers) and honor Southern loyalists.

A motion was finally carried to adjourn.

A crowd afterwards gathered round the Union League rooms and Senator Wilson responded briefly.

Senator Lane, of Indiana, said he thanked God that the Southern Union sentiment could at last be heard. He believed that the black men who had braved the storm of battle in defense of the flag to be at least the equal of pardoned rebels and unhung traitors and felons. (Applause.) He would disfranchise pardoned rebels now and forever, so that the last trumpet should not summon them to the Halls of Congress. (Cheers.) He would secure the provision repudiating the rebel debt. Sustain "My Policy" and you will have it to pay.

Gen. Chamberlain, of Maine, said that State would speak next week in a way to warm their hearts, and Mr. Scovil of New Jersey, said if spared till the 10th, he would record his vote for the Constitutional Amendment, also that if Alexander G. Cattell, should be the nominee of the caucus, he should have his (Scovil's) vote. He had been in the democratic party nine years, and had tried it drunk and tried it sober, and drunk or sober, there is nothing in it. They had met to-day to pick their flints for the campaign against two wings of the Democratic party, which had been seperated by Union armies for six years. (Laughter.) Both had been whipped, one by ballots and the other by bayonets. (Cheers.)

Calls were made for General Butler, who was not present.

A meeting of the New York delegation, General H. W. Walbridge in the Chair, was held in the afternoon.

Senator Chandler said there could be no doubt about the doctrine of total depravity. Look at Andrew Johnson and W. H. Seward. There would have been danger to the country but for the progress and speeches of the past eight or nine days, which must have satisfied the country what they are. (Laughter.) Whatever obstacle stands in the way of the nation's prosperity will soon be removed by the people. Who is Andrew Johnson? Simply the Executive officer of the ship. He has no more right to send in suggestions to Congress than any of you. (The sentiment was greeted with three rousing cheers.) If Johnson does not execute the laws, he is a traitor, and we will impeach him. (Cheers, delegates rising to their feet.) I see in large cities men of immense wealth supporting his policy. It is the rebel policy to get control of the Government, and he is merely the tool of rebels. (Shouts of applause and cries of "that's true.") He was told by a Union man from Alabama that the successful candidate for Congress had pledged to pay the rebel debt or repudiate both and pay for the slaves. In any event Mr. Chandler showed that even with the most virtuous Congress, the assumption of the rebel debt would be easy, and probable, if southern rebels were admitted, and further stated that he thought Andrew Johnson would help them to-morrow.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Segar looking to the selection of a Senator who should succeed to the Presidency in view of the probable impeachment. Laid on the table.

Governor Yates expressed amazement at the successor of the great and good Lincoln. He had betrayed the loyal millions who had elevated him. Illinois would furnish five hundred thousand more troops to finish the good work they had begun. He thought no State had a right to deprive any man, American Indian, African, and especially Irishmen, of his right to the franchise. He was for an Irish Republic and against Maximilian—against Jeff. Davis and Andrew Johnson, Wade Hampton and Vallandigham. The honest old Democracy, the Douglas and John Logan sort, the President has abandoned for the peace sneaks.

Mr. Frederick Douglass was then introduced with cheers and enthusiasm. He agreed with the address of the late Philadelphia Convention in saying no taxation without representation. (Laughter.) Statesmanship and philanthropy alike demand the incorporation of four millions of blacks in the body politic (cries of "Good!") with the ballot box. Every other box witness and jury was secured. It should not be forgotten the black man helped put down the rebellion. (Cries of "We won't forget it.") Shall it be said that in making peace America remembered her enemies, but forgot her friends? Enfranchised the one, disfranchised the other? (Cries of "No, never.") When asked how about Beecher's position, he said Beecher did not know any more of his own position than he (Douglass) did.

Mr. Douglass was warmly cheered at the close.

Theodore Tilton next spoke.

Jackson S. Schultz said he had been asked by an army officer why the president was like a harp struck by lightning. The answer was, Because he was a blasted lyre. (Laughter.)

The meeting then adjourned.

(ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON THIRD PAGE.)

Tenth Ward Union Republican Geary Club Organized.

According to previous announcement, an adjourned meeting of the Union Republican voters of the Tenth Ward, of the City of Pittsburgh, was held last evening, at the office of Messrs. Bayne & Shafer, Fifth street.

The meeting was organized by calling David Simms, Esq., to the chair, and appointing N. W. Shafer, Esq., Secretary.

The Committee on Permanent Organization reported the following list of officers for the government of the Club. In their report they beg leave to state that in the choice of a name for the Club, they considered that this campaign would not be closed with the election of General John W. Geary as Governor (as he will be,) but would last as long as the Congressional plan of Reconstruction met with opposition, and instead of styling it simply a "Geary Club," it be called the "Union Republican Club," in order that the Club might not lose sight of the principles on the line of which they propose to conduct the campaign. The following are the officers recommended by the Committee:

President—John Shipton, Esq.

Vice Presidents—Dr. T. F. Gallaher, John Gripp, August Steinmyer, Sr., Alexander Scott Stephen M. Ott and Charles Reichspfarr.

Recording Secretary—Noah W. Shafer.

Corresponding Secretary—Capt. Edward A. Montooth.

Financial Committee—David Sims Chairman; Louis Duft, James Montooth, A. Frowenfeld, W. Weyman and Wm. Little.

Executive Committee—James L. Sutherland, Chairman; Jacob Diehl, Joseph Keyser, Alex. Atkinson, J. D. Egan, Henry Daub, N. Seidle, John Ochse, Jacob Garber, F. J. Busha, J. M. Hoffman, Dr. George L. McCook, Joseph Hays, Wm. Simpson, Noah W. Shafer, E. Baker and Christian Loughbine.

On motion the gentlemen above named were unanimously elected to the offices named.

On motion, the recommendation of the Committee on Organization was adopted, and the club styled "The Tenth Ward Union Republican Geary Club."

The Club then adjourned to meet at the same place on Wednesday evening next.

A Mother Administers Poison to Her Own Child by Mistake.

The most distressing case of accidental poisoning that we have been called upon to record for a number of years took place in Allegheny City on Monday night. The circumstances surrounding the melancholy affair are about as follows: For some time past an infant daughter of Mr. Andrew Crawford, residing in the Fourth ward, Allegheny city, had been suffering from some disease peculiar to childhood. On Monday night the infant became very cross and peevish, and in order to quiet her Mrs. Crawford despatched an elder daughter up stairs for a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, that occupied a place, with a number of vials of medicine, on the bureau. The little girl returned and handed her mother a bottle containing, as they supposed, the Syrup asked for. Without hesitating an instant, Mrs. Crawford filled a large teaspoon with the medicine and gave it to the infant. The child became quiet immediately afterwards, and the mother deposited it in a crib. A few moments after she raised the child in her arms, but judge of her horror when she discovered that the form of the little one was cold and rigid, and that a clammy death sweat had gathered on its brow. She hastened immediately to where she had left the bottle from which she had taken the medicine, and found that instead of the harmless syrup she had given her child an immense dose of laudanum. Three physicians were sent for immediately, and their united efforts were used to restore the child to consciousness, but it was all in vain. Death ensued in five hours after the narcotic had been administered.

The parents of the children are almost distracted over this sudden calamity. They have our earnest sympathy in their bereavement.

Meeting of the Allegheny Soldiers' League.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the honorably discharged soldiers of Allegheny City was held last evening in the Weigh House, Diamond Square, for the purpose of favoring a Soldiers' League in that city. John S. Edgar was made temporary chairman, and Capt. John Sample Secretary.

After a slight debate, a constitution and bylaws were adopted, in substance the same as that which governs the actions of the League in this city.

The following gentlemen were nominated for permanent officers, to be voted for at the next regular meeting:

President—Alexander Callow.

Vice President—John S. Edgar.

Recording Secretaries—A. J. Hamilton, Capt. Cornelius.

Corresponding Secretaries—Captain John Sample.

Treasurer—W. B. Crossens.

Spirited addresses were delivered by several gentlemen, after which the meeting adjourned to meet on Tuesday evening next, at their hall, in Water alley, near Federal street.

Lawrenceville Items.

Lawrenceville is becoming a lively place, and unless curbed in its aspirations will soon lay claim to the title of being a city. Take yesterday for an example. Alderman Strain was required to straighten out the tangled meshes into which some of the unfortunate citizens of that enterprising borough had fallen. Eleanor Allsen complained that Nancy Adams had threatened to knock her brains out. A dangerous threat if carried into effect. Eleanor also complained that Margaret Ford had insulted her, and threatened her child with violence. Bad for Margaret. The cases required the intervention of the law, and the suave Judge issued warrants accordingly.

One would imagine that the embryo city had tested Judge Strain's patience to its utmost limit by this time. Not so, for no sooner had he disposed of the aforesaid before Frank McGovern informed him that J. Cowan, Fred. Forbes and an unknown individual had attempted to haul away some gravel belonging to the complainant, and that when remonstrated with, they had drawn a pistol on him and threatened to shoot him. The Judge gave to a gentleman present a slip of paper containing an invitation for them to visit him at his office, when the matter could be settled without an appeal to arms. We are happy to state that the war is over.

Important Truth.

The fact has become well established that a large class of diseases can be traced to a depraved state of the blood, and are readily cured by such remedies as will enter into the blood, and expel from it all morbid particles. By this means the remedy can be brought into immediate contact with the disease. The remedy that stands pre-eminent for this purpose is Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher.

Scrofula, King's evil, cancer, and cancerous tumors, white swellings, enlargement of the bones and joints, chronic rheumatism, and gout, eruptive diseases of the skin, old and indolent ulcers, goitre and goitrous swellings of the throat and neck, are cured by Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher, with a certainty that has astonished even men well schooled in medicine. Hundreds of such persons are now suffering with diseases of this class, who, if they knew the cures made by Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher, would not hesitate one instant in giving it a trial.

A trial will give confidence, and perseverance in the use of the medicine will restore hundreds of sufferers to health and usefulness.

Be careful and ask for Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher, and take no other. If your druggists do not keep it, write to Dr. Keyser, 140 Wood street, and he will send it by express. $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5.

Lake Erie Press Association.

The next regular meeting of the Lake Erie Press Association will be held at Jamestown, New York, commencing on the 20th proximo. All old members of the Association, and editors, publishers and reporters, who desire to become members, are earnestly requested to attend. Business of importance to the profession will come before the Association, and the craft may also expect a pleasant social reunion. We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation from the Secretary, J. E. Rupert, of the Conneautville Record, as well as a "bid" to an anniversary party to be given at the Power House, Conneautville, on the 10th instant, in commemoration of Perry's Victory.

Another Old Citizen Gone.—Mr. John Thaw, a resident of Pittsburgh for sixty-two years, expired at his residence on Monday afternoon at two o'clock. Mr. Thaw was born in Philadelphia, in 1779, and was consequently eighty-seven years of age. In 1804 he came to this city for the purpose of opening a branch of the Bank of Pennsylvania. He was afterwards Teller in the Pittsburgh Branch of the Bank of the United States. For many years he has acted as Superintendant of the Monongahela Wire suspension bridge. He was probably one of the most widely known men in the State.

Ten More Unfortunates.—Mayor McCarthy was required, in his official capacity, to dispose of ten cases yesterday morning, all of whom had indulged in liberal potations from the flowing bowl, and one having acted in a very disorderly manner in his own house. The disorderly man came down with ten dollars, and six of the remainder with one dollar each and costs, while three were sent up to the mansion on the hill for twenty-four hours.

Union Mass Meeting.—Let the Union Republican voters remember that the Executive Committee have made arrangements to have a grand mass meeting to-morrow night in the Allegheny Diamond. Quite a number of distinguished speakers will be present. Let the turnout be a large one, and let the voice of Allegheny speak in tones not to be misunderstood.

Stock Sales. Tuesday evening, September 4th, at the Commercial Sales Rooms, No. 106 Smithfield street, by A. McIlwaine, auctioneer:

Bank of Pittsburgh	$67 00
Allegheny National Bank	57 75
Birmingham Gas Company	30 25
National Refining & Storing Co	10 00
City of Pittsburgh Compromise Bond,	75 ℘ ct.

Immense.—During the month of August Jno. S. Edgar, the Weighmaster at the Diamond scales, Allegheny City, weighed no less than 728 loads of hay, and 345 loads of feed. This was the largest business done at the scales since their erection. In Mr. Edgar, the citizens of our sister city have a good, reliable and efficient officer.

Appointment of Sub-Committees to the Organization of the "Boys in Blue."

At the meeting held in City Hall, on last Friday night, the Executive Committee was instructed to appoint sub-committees for each ward, borough or township within the county, whose duty it should be to enroll the names of all soldiers favorable to the election of Gen. Geary and the Union Republican ticket. The first named on each committee is the chairman. As soon as the organizations are effected, the several committees are requested to report to Lieutenant John G. McConnell, Secretary of the Central Organization, at No. 93 Diamond street. The soldiers in those districts in the country not yet named below, are requested to make their enrolment the same as if committees had been appointed. Those wishing to hold meetings can obtain posters on application at the Union Headquarters, City Hall.

The following are the committees:

Religious.

The corner stone of the new Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. J. J. Hilyar pastor, now in course of erection at New Brighton, will be laid with appropriate ceremonies on the afternoon of Wednesday, September 12th. The Masonic fraternity will take part in the ceremonies, and it is expected that a large delegation of the order from this city and vicinity will be present on the occasion. Rev. Dr. Martin, of Wheeling, West Virginia, will deliver the oration. Dr. A. M. Pollock, of this city, D. D. G. M., will also be present, and assist in the masonic ceremonies. The exercises will commence at half-past one o'clock on the afternoon of the day named. It is probable that arrangements will be made to secure the issue of excursion tickets for the accommodation of those desiring to be present on the occasion.

The Late Lawrenceville Homicide.—Our readers remember the affray that lately occurred at Lawrenceville, in which Myers was killed by Loughrey, and the subsequent arrest of Loughrey. Two other parties were charged with being particeps criminis, who escaped and were not arrested until yesterday, when it was ascertained where they were. Upon receiving the information, Chief Hague, and Officers Scott and Mullen went to the residence of James Craig—one of the parties—in Lawrenceville, where he was arrested and taken to the Mayor's office. Officer Scott also proceeded to the upper part of Brownstown, where he found Benjamin Hall, the other party implicated, and brought him to the city. They were committed to jail for a hearing today at two o'clock p. m.

Insane.—A young girl by the name of Melzina Frame, aged about seventeen years, was yesterday committed to the county jail by Justice Janey, of Lawrenceville, for being insane. She resides somewhere above Sharpsburg. It is a pity we have no place better than the common jail to place these poor unfortunate creatures. We are informed that there are several of both sexes now incarcerated in the jail, whose only offense is that they are out of their mind. Here is a wide field for the philanthropist.

Assault and Battery.—Margaret Steemer appeared before Justice Lipp, of Birmingham, yesterday, and made oath against Lewis De Pold for assault and battery. The prosecutrix in her deposition alleges that De Pold struck her in the face with his clenched fist for no cause whatever, and she demanded legal vengeance on him. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the assailant, who resides in Lower St. Clair township near the borough line.

Dastardly.—Officer Hopper, one of the Allegheny night police, was struck a severe blow over the head yesterday morning while on duty, by some unknown ruffian, who unfortunately made his escape. The attack was cowardly and no man would be guilty of such an offence, and as Hamlet says "not women neither."

Withdrew the Suit.—John Livis was before Alderman Lynch yesterday, charged with surety of the peace on oath of his wife, Jane Livis. John promised to do better, paid the costs and was discharged, Jane having consented to withdraw the suit.

Criminal Court Proceedings.

The Criminal Court met at [illegible] yesterday morning, Judges Mellon and Brown occupying the bench. The following business was transacted:

George H. Miller and Michael Hughes appeared in a surety case. The parties reside in Birmingham. Some time since Miller and John Hughes indulged in the amusement of a prize fight. The parties were each required to enter bail in the sum of five hundred dollars to keep the peace.

Mary Kelly was charged with surety on oath of J. Kenney. A hearing in the case failed to establish the charge, and the prosecutor was required to pay the costs incurred.

John Schnele pleaded guilty to an indictment of assault and battery upon John McGonnigle. The parties reside in [illegible]. The accused was sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars and the costs of prosecution.

The case of Thomas Graham was next taken up. Graham, some weeks since, was before Mayor McCarthy on a charge of disorderly conduct, preferred by Mrs. Dunn, the prosecutrix alledging that Thomas spat in her face. The Mayor imposed a fine of twenty-five dollars, from which decision Graham took an appeal. After a hearing in the case this morning Judge Mellon reversed the Mayor's decision, and ordered the costs to be paid by Mrs. Dunn.

Stephen Foy and his wife Bridget, and Alexander McCreery, appeared as parties in cross suits of surety. The parties are neighbors, and from the testimony adduced do not appear to live in a very amicable manner. Both parties were required to enter bail.

Asa Hollister was placed on trial for assaulting officer Jas. Bell, of the Fifth ward, with stones. In the month of July last Asa took a position on Penn street, and, it is alleged, assaulted persons who chanced to pass with stones. Officer Bell endeavored to interrupt this rather questionable amusement, when Hollister hurled missiles at him. The jury were out when court adjourned.

A Queer Case of Desertion.

Annie Tomlinson appeared before Justice Lappert yesterday and made oath against Simon Weston, for the larceny of a dark merino dress, the property of the latter. It appears the parties have lived together in Pitt township for a number of years as husband and wife, although there had never been any marriage ceremony performed that would legally make them as such. Some three weeks since an individual named Anthony Smith came to board with the twain, and being a young man of prepossessing appearance and good address, he soon won the affections of the susceptible Annie, who at his suggestion left Weston and took up her abode with the object of her more recent love in a tavern in South Pittsburgh. Enraged at the desertion of his nominal wife, Morton seized her wardrobe, and refused to give her any of her clothing until she should repair his honor by returning to the protection of his humble roof. This she refused to do, and being desirous of regaining her treasure, she instituted proceedings against Simon for the larceny of a dark merino dress. The rest of the clothing had been purchased by Weston, and she did not think it proper to enter suit for the recovery of that she conscientiously felt was not hers. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of the accused.

Ferocious Dog.—Tim McGoran, owner of a certain piece of canine flesh which, [illegible] the dignified appellation of "[illegible]," yesterday the canine [illegible] did Graham—that is [illegible] in the flesh of one [illegible] er words, McGoran [illegible] which McGoran was arraigned before His Honor Mayor McCarthy, [illegible] The suit was withdrawn [illegible] to sacrifice the cur [illegible] David's revenge.

Nocturnal Vocalists.—[illegible] was made vocal last night, between twelve and one o'clock, by the melodious warblings of the far-famed [illegible] Opera Troupe. The gentlemen composing this troupe are not Italians, although one of them is a "[illegible] Father," but nevertheless they are artists of recognized ability. [illegible] a new piece just published by [illegible] & Co. they are really excellent, and make a near approach to perfection.

Re-committed.—Louis A. Bright, who was arrested several days since, charged with having married Sarah Elder, while he had a wife living in Pottsville, and also for having committed adultery with her before marriage, was taken before Alderman Donaldson yesterday for a further hearing, but the parties not being altogether ready for trial, he was recommitted for a further hearing on the [illegible] instant, at two o'clock p. m.

Before Alderman Donaldson.—[illegible] Ashaell appeared before Alderman Donaldson yesterday, and made oath [illegible] Calaghn for surety of the peace. The parties occupy rooms in the same tenement, in the Seventh ward. Jacob was arrested, but refusing to give bail he was sent to jail. A few hours in confinement had a wonderful effect upon his temper, and he furnished the bail and was released.

Coroner's Inquest.—Edward Rooting, of Allegheny, died in a cooper shop attached to Hoffman's brewery, on [illegible] street, in the Third ward, Allegheny, on Monday afternoon, from the effects of intemperance. Coroner Clawson held an inquest yesterday morning, on the body of the deceased, and a verdict was rendered in accordance with the facts.

Struck by Lightning.—During the prevalence of the thunder storm that visited this city Monday morning, a bakery, situated on Beaver street, near the corner of Adams, in the borough of Manchester, was struck by lightning. We have not learned the extent of the damage.

Secret.—Our enterprising friend the local editor of the Allegheny Times is in possession of some secret information, and promises to give his readers the benefit of his knowledge in a few days. By the way, what has become of the Fire Alarm Telegraph?

REFORMERS—STATESMEN.

MR. WENDELL PHILLIPS has been seriously thought of as a probable candidate for Congress in the Fifth District of Massachusetts. Indeed, the matter went so far that to avoid a nomination he was compelled to declare he would not consent to be a candidate. In this he evinced a sound appreciation of his mental and moral powers and tendencies and of the position he is fitted to fill with honor and usefulness. At the same time the fact that considerable numbers of his fellow-citizens, not only recognize his incomparable abilities, but hold him deserving of popular recognition, and entitled to civic elevation, helps to mark with definiteness the great change that has come over American Society during the last few years. At any time prior to the war he was more likely to receive martyrdom at the nearest lamp-post, than to be borne on men's shoulders into high official station.

Mr. PHILLIPS is a gentleman, both by birth and breeding. Sprung from an old and honored family, endowed with superior natural gifts, he received all the advantages of careful and exact training which hereditary wealth could command. In early life his predominant instincts led him to break with the traditions of the aristocratic circle in which he moved, and to espouse a cause covered with obloquy and reproach. For a quarter of a century he was an apostle of a crusade against established institutions, not only entrenched in habit, but commanding immense monetary capital, ruling social life with despotic sway, dominating in halls of legislation, ministering to the most depraved lusts and appetites, and impelling the lower classes, through low incentives, to defend customs by which they were debased, and to uphold the upper classes by which they were despised and contemned. In this vocation he exhibited an unmatched readiness and versatility; a wonderful command over himself and his resources; a marvelous depth of bitterness and concentration of tenderness. He has lived to see at least the partial triumph of his ideas, and to gather the first fruits of a great reputation that shall stand through the centuries with ever increasing radiance.

Whatever original capabilities he may have possessed, the habit of his life has made him a Reformer and not a Statesman, and to such a degree that it may well be questioned whether he would do credit to himself or even promote the cause he has most at heart if he should exchange the platform for the tribune of the House of Representatives. It is the province of the Reformer to insist on the Ideal—of the Statesman to do the best he can with the Actual. These two functions, each of the highest importance, are totally unlike in their methods. Hence, it happens that Statesmen are seldom, in the strict sense, Reformers, and Reformers rarely Statesmen. Sometimes the attempt to combine the two functions in one person produces damaging results. This was exemplified on more than one occasion, during the last session of Congress, in the person of Mr. SUMNER. He was unwilling to mar the Ideal, as it existed in his mind, and hence rejected the Actual, that he could easily have obtained. This was strikingly illustrated in his course on BLAINE's Amendment. It was in the right direction, but as it did not come up to the full measure he desired, he not only refused to aid its passage, but made disastrous opposition. This was acting as became a Reformer, but was at variance with Statesmanship. The Agitator properly insists on having the absolute Right prevail. He refuses all abatements and concessions. The Statesman adapts himself to the condition of public sentiment; and, if a wise and true one, makes such forward steps as he can surely hold. A Reformer may well avow all that ought to be done. A Statesman will not bring forward a measure unless there is a fair probability of its succeeding.

The judgment Mr. PHILLIPS has of his sphere is sound. It would be refreshing, at times, to see his sword flash in the contests of the House, and to hear the fusilade of his sarcasm and irony. But his true theatre is not there. He was organized by nature, and furnished forth by habit, as an Iconoclast—as a puller down, and not a builder up. It is well he resolves to stick to his vocation.

MISSOURI.

The current canvass in Missouri is prosecuted with uncommon earnestness on both sides. The rebel element, conscious that President JOHNSON is with them, are resolved to press all the advantages which that unhoped-for accession gives. They count confidently on not experiencing any opposition from him, no matter to what measures of violence they may resort. It is stated, on competent authority, that they have even importuned the President to interpose, militarily, for the removal of such legal obstructions as exist to the participation of notorious rebels in the management of political affairs, and that the response, though not up to their desires was such as to afford them a large degree of encouragement.

Two or three days ago, we had a full conversation with a gentleman, born and reared in Mississippi, but now, and for a considerable period resident in Missouri, and intimately acquainted with the details of political movements there. He was firmly of the opinion that the Conservatives have perfected a military organization in all the counties, not for protection against threatened violence, but for the express purpose of a systematic assault upon the Republicans. When the blow would be struck he was somewhat in doubt; but he thought many months could not elapse before there would be an outburst, unless the attitude of the Washington Executive should change meanwhile, or the position of the Republicans should become so formidable as to render the result at least peculiarly hazardous.

The St. Louis Democrat, of the 1st inst., has an article which seems to refer, more or less directly, to this emergency. It quotes from the President's recent New York speech, as follows:

"Are we prepared to renew these scenes through which we have just passed? Are we prepared again to see one portion of this country arrayed in deadly conflict against another portion, as we have just seen them arrayed?"

And adds:

"We have heard this sort of thing before, Mr. Johnson. The country heard the threat of a dissolution of the Union in 1830; again in 1850; again when the Nebraska bill was passed; again when Fremont was a candidate, and yet again when Abraham Lincoln was nominated. It is the very same old threat: 'Yield to the South, or there will be trouble!' Unfortunately it always comes from the rebels of the Southern States, with whom Mr. Johnson has now allied himself in purpose and whose favorite argument he seems to have caught. We respectfully submit, Mr. President, that this threat is neither becoming to your station, nor is it likely to have its desired effect. It is stale, sir! The people were not frightened by it in 1860, when you and your friends used it to deter them from electing such a President as they preferred; they will not be frightened by it now. A war has demonstrated the power of the people to maintain their government in spite of armed secession. If another war is necessary to demonstrate the power of the people to maintain their government against armed treachery and the revolutionary plots of an unworthy Executive, let it come! You will find the people just as ready and resolute as they were in 1861. And when that contest closes they will take good care to see that 'traitors are punished,' and 'treason made odious.'

"The language of the President can hardly be misconstrued. It is a plain declaration that another civil war is to follow a refusal to accept his 'policy.' If intended as such a declaration, it is treasonable, in spirit and in purpose. If not so intended, it evinces a recklessness in the use of incendiary language which is in the last degree reprehensible."

* * *

GOV. OGLESBY, in a late speech, brought out a point with such remarkable distinctness that it is well to give it special consideration:

Where do these Johnson Democrats differ from us? They say that you Republicans in Indiana are in favor of Congress and opposed to the President. If I understand myself that is my case exactly. (Laughter and cheers.) I am most emphatically and unequivocally in favor of Congress, and the laws of Congress, as opposed to Andy Johnson. I happen to know that the Congress of the United States is the law making power of the nation, and that the Congress speaks for me and for you; and I also happen to know that Andy Johnson, nor any other President, is the voice of the people, that he cannot speak for the American people. Did you ever hear of Congress having a policy? Did you ever hear of the Supreme Court of the United States having a policy? Are they not two of the independent, coordinate branches of the Government, having charge of and controlling it? If this is so, please tell me where, in the Constitution, the President gets his right to have a "policy?" When Andy Johnson spoke of "my policy," as he did in his 22d of February speech, and declares he is going to enforce it, carry it out, where did he get his right to have a policy or to carry one out?

* * *

THE Philadelphia North American, says:

"It is reported that when Mr. Clymer delivered his first speech in defence of the confederate cause and in denunciation of the Union men, in the State Senate, ex Governor William F. Johnston, the present Collector of the Port of Philadelphia, who was an auditor on the occasion, met Clymer immediately afterwards, and, on the latter offering his hand, remarked that if George Clymer, who signed the Declaration, could have heard his degenerate descendant, he would have kicked him out of the Senate Chamber. Yet Governor Johnston is now cheek by jowl with Clymer, and bound to aid his election. Does the Governor still retain his opinion of that speech? Does Clymer still adhere to the sentiments it embodied, as he said at Reading? If so, which, then, is right, Johnston or Clymer now, and the electioneering placards are headed "Johnson and Clymer"—that same Johnston whom that same Clymer denounced as always a mercenary in pursuit of pelf. As Clymer says he has nothing to recall, this opinion of President Johnson is reiterated by the very man who is making use of him to get himself elected Governor of Pennsylvania. We submit it to a candid people whether the man guilty of such a trick as this is fit to be the Chief Magistrate of a great State."

MR. HORACE GREELEY, in a review of a recent letter, says:

"Mr. Beecher has achieved a sudden and wide popularity. In the conviction of every blackleg, duelist, negro-killer and rowdy, from the St. John to the Rio Grande, he has all at once ceased to be a fanatic, a bigot, a disunionist, and become an enlightened patriot and statesman. His praises are freely mingled with the blasphemies of the Hook and the ribaldry of The Sunday Mercury. There is not in the land one who considers "niggers very well in their place," but that place under the feet of the Whites, who does not thank him for his letter. The Thugs of New Orleans are by this time enjoying it; and Gen. Forrest would gladly preside at a meeting called expressly to ratify it. But there is sadness in many hearts where the eloquent pastor of Plymouth Church has been loved and honored—a mournful consciousness that they have trusted too confidingly and loved unwisely. "Little children, keep your hearts from idols.""

* * *

THE REV. J. P. NEWMAN, writing to the New York Methodist, from New Orleans, makes the following important statement:

"Nor is it the least objectionable feature of Mr. Johnson's Administration that, having withdrawn the greater portion of the troops from the several garrisons, he has collected in these self-same garrisons immense quantities of military stores and ordinance sufficient to equip a large force. There is to-day at Baton Rouge, La., ordinance of all kinds to equip an army of 200,000 men, with but a single regiment to protect them. Although officially notified of the fact, he has paid no attention to the notifications of the danger involved. The South was never better armed than now."

Is President JOHNSON stocking up the Southern States with military supplies, as President BUCHANAN did, preparatory to a renewal of the rebellion?

* * *

THE following is a good illustration of the part the President is playing in organizing the army to suit his "policy." A few weeks since, upon the earnest recommendations of Generals Thomas, Sherman and Grant, the President appointed Brigadier General Charles Howard, a brother of Major General Howard, Major in one of the new cavalry regiments. Brigadier General Howard enlisted as a private, served with distinction with his present grade, has been three times severely wounded, and his whole record is a brilliant one. A certain Captain Newman, of a Maine regiment, entirely unknown at the war office except that his name is borne on its rolls, wrote a note to Mr. Johnson, saying that he heartily endorsed his policy, and asking for General Howard's place. The President at once wrote on the note, "Let Captain Newman be appointed in place of General Howard," and the General was thus summarily removed.—Cincinnati Gazette.

Dr. Perry has acquired a wide reputation as a Dermatologists, treating with great success cutaneous disorders of the scalf, loss of hair, &c., and any remedy or preparation of his may be received with confidence. Sold by all druggists.—Boston Post.

—The gambling house reporter of a New York paper gives a fair record thus: "A well known newspaper publisher and politician has lost over a quarter of a million of dollars. A paymaster in the army was a defaulter in $12,000, lost in the same way. A well known Californian lost $60,000. A well known citizen of Jersey City, doing a large manufacturing business, was completely ruined within a short time at the faro table. A young man, keeping books in Williamsburg, became a defaulter of $12,000. He was the only support of an aged mother, and was obliged to flee his home. A man, for over twenty years in the employ of an express company, having the unbounded confidence of his employers, took to gambling, and in an evil moment, to get money to play with, robbed his employers, was detected, and sent to the State Prison for a term of years. A young man came into possession, on the 12th day of May last, of $56,000, and to-day he has not got a dollar, having lost it all at the gaming table."

* * *

—The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher has a son, who is an officer in the regular army. This son was dismissed from the service by a court martial, some eighteen months ago, and was restored and promoted by Andrew Johnson about the time that Mr. Beecher first became a champion of "my policy." The restoration of young Beecher almost created a mutiny in the regiment from which he had been expelled, and some compromise had to be effected to avert the scandal. Whether the junior Beecher remains in the army, or whether he was allowed to resign, we are not informed. The facts above mentioned were quite notorious among army officers last year, and also among the wise men of the Congregational Church. Whether the restoration of the son explains Mr. Beecher's anxiety for the restoration of the South, we cannot affirm. It is at least unfortunate that the two things should have come to light about the same time.—Chicago Tribune.

—A good anecdote is related of the French Emperor's departure from Vichy. His first valet de chambre, Leon, has been in his service since the Emperor was quite a young man, having been placed about his person by Queen Hortense. His devoted attachment to his master is well known. As the Emperor was leaving Vichy, he called for Leon, and having handed a sealed packet to him, told him the parcel contained the title deeds of the chalet and grounds he had just quitted, and which the Emperor has inhabited during his successive visits. "You are a landlord now," said his master to Leon, "and I hope that you will accept me next year as your tenant at the rate of 20,000f. rent. I shall pay regularly."

* * *

—The New Orleans Tribune, which was suspended recently by rebel violence, is out again as boldly as ever. It says: "After a few days of suspension we are again under way; the same flag nailed to the mast, and with the same pilots and crew. Free speech and a free press cannot be crushed. The truth cannot be sent back down the throats of men who are endowed with the divine spark. Injustice, folly, prejudices, slanders, colored pictures, calumny, errors, will die and away. The tyranny of one man or the despotism of a class may spread lies and calumnies through the world. Still, a secret voice speaks in the hearts of faithful men. And this voice will, in time, proclaim the truth, and vindicate the rights of humanity."

—Seventy guns have been purchased of Massachusetts by the Chilian government for $600,000, without carriages. This ordinance includes four 450-pounder, six 300-pounder and 68-pounder Blakely guns, the remainder consisting of serviceable naval artillary of various calibres, but none very heavy. The English guns are those purchased by Massachusetts during the late war, for the protection of Boston harbor from rebel pirates, &c. As the carriages are to be built in the United States, some time will elapse before the ordinance can be shipped.

SOUTHERN UNION CONVENTION.

Editorial Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.
PHILADELPHIA, September 3, 1866.

Philadelphia has outdone herself. Never in the history of her municipal existence has such a royal, grand, and soul inspiring reception been awarded to any set of men, than that given the fire tried patriots of the South, who meet here to further the common cause of our country. From early morn the streets were crowded with men, women and children, all anxious to extend the warm hand of welcome to their Southern friends. Hotels were thronged, public squares crowded, and all the available perches and balconies of the main streets of the city were occupied by curious multitudes, anxious to catch sight of the loyal patriots, who had remained faithful to their country in the midst of faithlessness. National bunting floated from nearly every house, and the strains of martial music were echoed upon all sides. Indeed, the ovation was beyond all doubt, the most enthusiastic one ever accorded by a loyal people to their honored citizens. It was the national outpouring of the public heart which has been fired again with all the patriotic ardor which marked the days of the conflict between the army of liberty and the cohorts of treason. No such ovation could have been granted the August assembly of disloyal rebels. The silence then observed by the people of this city may now be attributed to supreme contempt, for to-day the citizens have been an unit in the matter of making the Southern loyalists feel that the great element of the North is with them in heart, spirit and feeling.

THE LOYAL CLANS GATHER.

At nine o'clock in the morning—and a beautiful morning it was, Heaven appearing to smile upon the occasion and blessing us with a warm, genial clear and unclouded day—the bands of delegates were moving in all directions preparing for the parade, to the place designated for holding the National Convention. As the Southerners passed along the streets they were roundly cheered, their beaming countenances telling their joy at the warm acknowledgements thus given to their loyalty. Soon the different Southern delegations were brought together, and were ready to march. They each wore blue silk badges, bearing in rich silver letters the name of the State represented. As we have them together, at the Union League Club House, let us pay a tribute to their appearance, formed, not only in our own judgemnnt but in the universal opinion of all. They are a noble looking body of men, wearing the air of true American sovereigns and having truth, independence and intelligence stamped in no weak characters upon their brows. They are just such men we might fancy, who could draw from the armory of truth and justice enough of pointed arrows to defy opposition, and baffle the machination of the traitors who would force from them the allegiance due their Government.

THE PROCESSION.

About ten o'clock the procession moved through the principal streets, and attracted tens of thousands, who effectually blocked up the highways. As the cortege passed along the scene of enthusiasm beggars description. Stout men cheered themselves hoarse, hats were thrown in the air, ladies waved handkerchiefs till arms tired, boquets were showered from windows and balconies upon distinguished gentlemen in the procession, bells rang, trumpets and drums sounded, in short we have never seem, nor can we ever again expect to see, such an enthusiastic sight. It made us proud of our old State and its metropolis. The following was the order of procession: District of Columbia, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas.

THE ALLEGHENY COUNTY DELEGATION.

The noble old banner county of the Union, our own good Allegheny, was fully represented by a fine body of men, one hundred and thirty-eight strong. It was assigned the second post of honor in the procession, and attracted considerable attention. The delegation was commanded by Sheriff Jno. H. Stewart, and was led by Gen. Jno. W. Geary, Gen. Moorhead, Thos. Marshall, Esq., Maj. A. M. Brown, U. S. District Attorney Carnahan, and others. The presence of Gen. Geary with the delegation was no small honor to our county, but next October we shall prove he selected his friends in the procession.

FRED. DOUGLASS.

Frederick Douglas was in the procession, walking arm and arm with Theodore Tilton. This will doubtless be made into political capital by the Fusionists. Well, let them do so. The Union party should never be ashamed to extend encouragement to men of ability and genius. As a representative man of the colored race in America, Fred. Douglass thinks rightly, that in this party alone can his poor down-trodden race look for protection and success.

OLD BEN BUTLER.

Prominent among the distinguished gentlemen in the procession was old Ben Butler. He was a special target for the enthusiasm of the people. Indeed, he was fairly carried upon the shoulders of the multitude and was compelled to go through a terrible ordeal of shaking hands. Ben was not in his military toggery, but was dressed in plain citizen's dress. He is an odd looking individual, with a slouchy walk and expressionless countenance. But his record is made, and a grateful people showed to day their gratitude for his public services.

PARSON BROWNLOW.

Seated in a carriage was Parson Brownlow. He, too, was warmly welcomed, and by no means the least honored of the representatives of the South. The Parson is fast failing and does not bear with him the appearance of a man who will live long to pour hot shot into the traitors' camp.

GOD BLESS GEARY.

The noble standard bearer of the Union Republican Party was received upon all sides by storms of the wildest and most impassioned enthusiasm. "God bless Geary," "Long live Geary," "Hurrah for our Hero," "Up, Boys, for Geary," and numerous other cries were heard all along the route, as the tall and dignified form of the General was distinguished.

General Geary is immensely popular here, and the name of his rival, Clymer, is hardly ever heard mentioned, save in derision and scorn. It may not be out of place to remark that prominent parties are betting here great odds that Geary will carry the State by twenty thousand majority.

Letter from Fayette City, Pa

FAYETTE CITY, PA., Sept. 1, 1866.

Messrs. Editors Gazette—I see a Committee, of which Hon. Robert McKnight is chairman, propose giving the President a cordial invitation to visit Pittsburgh. I think Mr. McKnight might distinguish himself more usefully. I would leave the cordial invitation to come from the friends of the President, viz.: the Copperheads, which includes Johnston, Sawyer, Weaver & Co. Extend a cordial invitation to President Johnson! Why not Jeff. Davis? Davis is the more respectable of two. The one is honest, the other a hypocrite. Jeff. Davis openly and manfully fought Unionists; but the modern Moses, while professing to be a friend of Unionists, is their secret and malignant enemy, and so far from making treason odious, strives to make it highly respectable, so much so that every where in the South Unionists have not only to take back seats but even the back seats are made exceedingly uncomfortable. Witness the New Orleans massacre under countenance and the direction of President Johnson. Witness the Memphis murder of Union men. Who were the big guns of the Philadelphia Convention? Dick Taylor, the man that made our men that were his prisoners dig their own graves before shooting them. This murderer was cheered to the skies when he entered the Convention. He (Johnson) has given assurance that he will defy the Constitution of Missouri, which forbids traitors to vote, by military force, and every Missouri rebel is returning to Missouri, for, as they say, "Andy is with us."

A cordial invitation, indeed, to the miserable traitor. The President to-day knows no Union party—he is body, mind and soul with the Copperheads and rebels, and he means to place all power in their hands. He is a bold, bad man, and he will resort to the most desperate measures to carry his point and crush the great Republican Union party, and especially our noble Congress, where "liberty in Washington alone lives." H.

Allegheny Street Commissioner.—"A subscriber" writes us complainingly of this officer, for the "vile condition of Gray alley, between the Diamond and Bro[illegible] street. This part of Gray alley, we k[illegible], at the place indicated, obstructs the d[illegible]ge from the adjacent yards, instead of r[illegible]ng the same and conveying it off. This is [illegible]g to a defect in the pavement, easily rem[illegible]d, and will doubtless soon be attended to by the Commissioner, who is the most efficient and thorough going incumbent of that office, that Allegheny has had for many years. He has been busy ever since his election, leaving less undone and doing more in one season, than had been done in the way of needful repairs and abating nuisances in the previous five.

Special Caution.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has become so popular that various parties have put out articles calling them Mrs. Winslow's. Please take notice that the Mrs. Winslow of the Soothing Syrup is not connected with any other article. jy11:d&w

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

THE PRESIDENTIAL EXCURSION.

The Reception at Cleveland.

THE PRESIDENT CALLED A TRAITOR.

Grant and Farragut Leave the Party.

RIOT URGED AT CHICAGO.

NEW YORK, September 4.—The journey of the Presidential party was resumed yesterday afternoon, and enlivened by enthusiastic receptions at nearly every station between Buffalo and Cleveland. At Silver Creek, Dunkard, and Erie, the demonstrations were particularly enthusiastic, and drew from the President lengthy and animated speeches.

The party arrived at Cleveland at 9 P. M., and were driven immediately to the Kenard House. About ten o'clock the President appeared on the balcony and made a speech to the crowd below, during the delivery of which a remarkable scene took place. The crowd was evidently largely composed of radicals who interrupted the President by hooting and shouting at him, and in one case calling him a traitor. The friends of the President in the crowd replied to the numerous hisses with cheers and applause, and when he had finished his speech he was saluted with loud and continued plaudits.

BUFFALO, Sept. 4.—A dispatch from Detroit this forenoon says General Grant and Admiral Farragut are in Detroit, having left the Presidential party in Cleveland. They took a steamboat last night and arrived in Detroit this forenoon.

The Buffalo Express, of this morning, has a special dispatch from Chicago, which says everything there points to a riot on the President's arrival.

The Chicago Times has a long leader to-day urging a riot, and in commenting on the action of the Board of Trade in not desiring to have their hall used for political speech making, says: "What they deem political we cannot say, but it is perhaps our duty to say that the President will be protected in whatever he may say in the Board of Trade hall, and elsewhere, so long as he may remain in Chicago." The article in question closes with the significant remark that the friends of the President will hold possession of Chicago during his tarry here.

FROM EUROPE BY THE CABLE.

Bismark's View of the Situation.

THE INSURRECTION IN CIRCASSIA.

Insurgents Willing to Submit.

BERLIN, September 2.—In the Chamber of Deputies M. Bismarck said that the views of the Government and the Deputies were not so much opposed as they appeared to be, even on the question of internal reform, but the most important task now was the foreign policy of Prussia.

ST. PETERSBURG, September 1.—Seven thousand Circassians captured the town of Lukrum Kalkully on the 28th of August. The Russians received reinforcements, retook the town and repulsed several attempts to recapture it.

The latest news states that the insurgents are willing to submit.

MOSCOW, September 1.—The United States embassy have gone to Novogorod. An invitation to visit the cities on the Caspian Sea was declined.

JASSY, August 31.—The Hospodar has made a triumphant entry into Jassy. He was met on the way by overtures from the inhabitants.

The difference between Chili and Uraguay in regard to the judgment of Spanish prizes in Uraguayan ports, has been reconciled.

A strong effort is making to invite emigration, a plat of eighty acres being granted to each family, and exemption from taxation for five years.

Our Naval Representatives in Europe—Enthusiastic Reception Tendered Them.

NEW YORK, September 4.—A Herald correspondent at Cronstadt, Russia, says of the receptions given our Naval representatives in that city and St. Petersburg: The flags of the Empire and Republic were intimately blended in the decoration o the festive halls, and portraits of Washington, and the Czar, Lincoln and Johnson, were suspended over the principal chairs. The names of Sinafe, Revel New Orleans, Sebastapol, Fort Fisher, Charleston, and other places of battles of Russia and America formed the mottoes.

At one banquet the health of the President of the United States was toasted before that of the Czar, an honor never before paid by Russians to a foreign ruler. The people were out in thousands, and when Assistant Secretary Fox and Ossip Ivanhoff Kommissaroff Kostromskoi, the peasant preserver of the life of the Emperor appeared, arm in arm, the crowd was wild with enthusiasm.

GLAD NEWS FOR THE UNFORTUNATE.
BELL'S SPECIFIC REMEDIES

Are warranted in all cases, for the speedy and permanent cure of all diseases arising from sexual excesses or YOUTHFUL INDISCRETION, Seminal Loss, Nightly Emissions and Sensual Dreams, Genital, Physical and Nervous Debility, Impotence, Gleet, Sexual Diseases, &c., &c. NO CHANGE OF DIET IS NECESSARY. They can be used without detection, and never fail to effect a cure, if used according to instructions.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS,

Price one dollar per box, or six boxes for five dollars; also, large boxes, containing four small. Price three dollars.
From four to six boxes are generally required to cure ordinary cases of Seminal Weakness and Emissions, though benefit is derived from using a single box.
In Chronic Cases, and particularly when Impotence or Genital Debility with Nervous Prostration has affected the system,

BELL'S TONIC PILLS

Are recommended as the most efficacious rejuvinating and invigorating remedy in the world.
A package, price five dollars, will last a month, and is generally sufficient.
In extreme cases of Debility and Impotence,

Bell's External Remedy,

Price two dollars, sufficient for a month, can be used to good advantage.
It gives strength to the organs, and with the Pills will restore them to their normal condition.

CAUTION.—The above Remedies have now been before the public many years, and their great success in the alleviation of human misery, has excited the cupidity of several parties, who use the name "Specific Pills," copy my labels, circulars and advertisements, sometimes word for word, and put up worthless compounds that disappoint the just expectations of the purchaser.

If you cannot purchase Bell's Specific Remedies of your Druggist, take no other, but send the money direct to

TO LADIES. If you require a reliable remedy to restore you, and remove irregularities or obstructions, WHY NOT USE THE BEST. Every lady knows the slightest irregularity of nature is likely to bring on Headache, Giddiness, Low Spirits, Fainting, Hysterics, &c.; then the bloom of health fades, the appetite fails, and other symptoms more distressing commence, as Weakness, Spinal Complaint, the Whites, Prolapsus, &c., &c. A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY will be found in DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS. The experience of 30 years has proved they have no equal for removing obstructions and irregularities, no matter from what cause they arise. They are safe and sure in every case. Upwards of 50,000 boxes are sold annually, and no complaint of their efficacy is ever heard, for they accomplish what they are represented to do. Sold in boxes containing sixty pills. Price one dollar.

DR. HARVEY'S GOLDEN PILLS is a remedy four degrees stronger than the above, and intended for special cases of long standing. Price five dollars per box.

If you cannot purchase the Pills at your Druggist, they will be sent by mail, post paid, secure from observation, on receipt of the money, by Dr. JAMES BRYAN, Consulting Physician, No. 819 Broadway, New York.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.—No. 1. Farm of 400 acres, Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., about 7 miles south of the Pa. Railroad, at Bolivar Station, and 60 miles from the city. The improvements are: First, a two-story stone dwelling with seven rooms; stone spring house, carriage house, corn crib and a good barn 48 by 78 feet; a large stable and granary, and the best of water at the door. Second, a large frame dwelling with 7 rooms and a kitchen, a large stone spring house, bake oven, corn crib, wagon shed, a large hewed log barn. Third, a frame tenement house, with a good stable. Fourth, a two-story hewed log house and barn. The fencing is generally good, large meadows, of the best timothy and clover; an abundance of limestone and coal upon the farm; a young and old apple orchard at each dwelling; 300 acres cleared, the residue in good timber, such as white, red, black and rock oak, sugar, beech, poplar and locust. The soil is good, producing the very best crops of all kinds of grain; would make a No. 1 stock farm, and will be sold low. Possession on the first day of October, 1866.

No. 2. Farm of 53 acres, situated in Chartiers township, Allegheny county, Pa., about 3½ miles from the city, near the line of the Steubenville R. R., and within one-half mile of a station; 30 acres of the best of creek bottom land, and in a high state of cultivation; 23 acres of wood land and pasture. The fencing is generally good. The soil is No. 1, and well adapted for gardening. The attention of those wishing to embark in the business will call at once and secure a good bargain, as this is a rare chance.

No. 3. Farm of 84 acres, situate in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Monongahela river, about one mile from the Borough of Elizabeth. The soil is of the best quality. The improvements are a farm house with six rooms, a good barn and other out buildings; fencing good; about 60 acres of coal. Churches, schools and mills very convenient. Possession immediately.

No. 4. Also, the best Farm in Elizabeth township, containing about 90 acres, lying on the Monongahela river immediately below Lock No. 3, on which is erected a large two-story brick dwelling, one log and one frame bank barn, corn crib, wagon shed, brick spring house, granary, work shop, &c.; about 30 acres of the above is first quality river bottom, the balance being limestone land, and underlaid with coal, and about 20 acres of limestone. There are two orchards of apple trees, in good bearing condition; peach pear, plum trees and grape vines, &c. The land is well adapted for gardening purposes, being a short distance from the thriving borough of Elizabeth, creating a market at home for all the products. The property will be sold cheap and on reasonable terms.

No. 5. A Farm of 158 acres in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., near the Youghiogheny river. The improvements are a hewed log house, a barn, stable and other out-buildings; fencing generally good; well watered; 118 acres cleared; veins of limestone, the under vein about 5½ feet thick; the upper vein about 4½ feet very convenient to the river. It is well timbered with the best white oak and black walnut timber. Price $50 per acre.

No. 6. A Farm of 216 acres, situate in Fin[illegible] township, Allegheny county, Pa. The improvements are a two story frame house, with six rooms and kitchen; a large bank barn, 80 by 60, and other outbuildings; good orchard; 176 acres cleared and in a good state of cultivation. The land is of best quality, well adapted for grain or stock, and is all underlaid with coal; a very large amount of locust timber. Possession given immediately. Convenient to churches, schools, mills, &c.

No. 7. A Farm of 96 acres, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., about one mile from Lock No. 3, on Monongahela river. Improvements are one frame house, with five rooms, barn, spring house and other outbuildings. The land is of the best quality. The above will be sold at very low figures.

TELEGRAMS.

Progress of the Presidential Party.

CLEVELAND, 9:30 A. M., September 4.—We are now leaving this city, having been escorted to the railroad station by the firemen and others. Having reached the Lake, the party were saluted by a revenue cutter. A committee from Zanesville called upon the President this morning, and extended an invitation to stop at that city on his way home, and it seems probably that he will do so for a few minutes.

ELYRIA, OHIO, 10:45 A. M., September 4.—The party stopped here a few minutes, when the President ascended a stand previously erected. He made no speech, but simply returned his thanks for the enthusiastic reception, and here, as at places heretofore, he left the Constitution, the Union and the flag in the hands of the people, where he was confident they would be safe.

Calls were made for Secretary Seward, who made a few remarks, concluding by proposing three cheers for the Union in perpetuity. Those were given, when a salute was fired, and the train moved off.

CLYDE, O., Sept. 4, 12:30 P. M.—The train halted for a few moments, and the distinguished members of the party were introduced.

FREMONT, Sept. 4, 1 P. M.—Here a stand had been erected, tastefully adorned, and on one side hung a large portrait of President Lincoln, and on the other Judge Douglas, with the mottoes in large letters, "New Orleans, Richmond, Atlanta, Vicksburg, Cedar Creek" and "Welcome to the President, and to the country's defenders, Farragut, Grant, Meade, Sherman." A number of young girls dressed in white, and representing the States of the Union, were conspicuous, and the firemen appeared in full dress. The President, Secretary Seward, Postmaster General Randall, Secretary Welles, Admiral Farragut, Minister Romero, and others, were especially introduced, and cheered by the spectators. The President delivered a brief and patriotic address. Referring to the South, at present he said they could, like Cornelia, press them to their bosom, and say with her, "These are our jewels."

TOLEDO, 2 P. M.—We were here met by a large crowd and conducted to the "Island House," but owing to the imperfect arrangements on the part of the Committee, and want of discipline in the police force, one-half of the Presidential party were excluded from the platform, the door opening to it having been closed before they all could pass through. A large transparency was prominent, with the words, "Welcome to the President, Grant and Farragut." The President and others of the party having been introduced to the spectators, Judge Potter said he had been delegated by the authorities of the city to tender to them and the gentlemen accompanying him a cordial welcome to Toledo.

OBERLIN, O., Sept. 4, 1:05 A. M.—The train passed slowly, followed by cheers. The President standing on the platform.

NORWALK, O., Sept. 4, 11:45 P. M.—The train stopped here a few minutes. The President, Secretary Seward, Admiral Farragut and others appeared on the car platform. The anxiety here to see the President was intense. Cheers were vigorously given, and salutes fired. The President made a brief speech. A man in the crowd asked, "why didn't you stop it at New Orleans?" to which the President responded, he should like to see that man's face. Couldn't an American citizen express such a sentiment without being insulted? The cars at this moment began to move, leaving the man who had asked the question, closely surrounded by his dissenting neighbors. Marshall Gooding, who was very sick for several days, has sufficiently recovered to resume his duties as an especial attendant on the President.

The Empress Carlotta's Mission Successful—Decision in the Case of Major Gee.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—A Paris letter writer says: The Empress Carlotta having been successful in her visit to Napoleon, has been advised to visit the United States for the purpose of bringing her great diplomatic talent to bear at Washington.

The proceedings and findings of the Military Commission before whom was tried Major Gee, formerly in command of the rebel prison at Salisbury, N. C., on charge of cruelty to Union prisoners of war, have just been made public. The Commission find that Major Gee, while in command of the prison, failed to furnish for the prisoners, about 10,000 in number, either food, clothing, rations, fuel, shelter, water or hospital attendance, sufficient to sustain life; that the prisoners were not supplied with sufficient water for culinary purposes, or even for satisfying thirst, or with wood except in very small or inadequate quantities, and this though an ample supply of water and food could have been obtained in the immediate neighborhood of the prison. The Commission, however, on the ground that the accused was to blame only for weakness in retaining the position when unable to carry out the dictates of humanity, and that the rebel government were fully responsible for all these inhumanities and outrages against the accused, both on the charges and specifications. In approving the proceedings and findings of the Commission, Major General C. Robinson, Commanding the Department of North Carolina, dissents from the conclusion of the Commission that the only responsible act of the accused was weakness in retaining the position as commandant at the prison. He says that while the evidence clearly established the fact, higher authorities of the rebel government were fully responsible for these violations of the laws and customs of war, and the accused was constantly calling their attention to the condition of the prison, and asking for supplies. It is believed that he had it in his power to relieve much of the suffering of the prisoners under his charge. Not only were prisoners starved, but suffered for want of water and fuel, which they could not have procured themselves, because it was feared that they might have effected their escape. Prisoners were shot down in cold blood, and the perpetrators of these murders were allowed to go unpunished.

Vermont Elections—Republican Gains.

MONTPELIER, VT., Sept. 4.—The annual elections for Governor, Lieut. Governor, Treasurer and members of the Legislature, in this State, took place to-day. The Republicans voted for Hon. Paul Dillingham, of Waterbury, for Governor, and the Democrats for Charles N. Davenport, Esq., of Whitingham. We have secured, this evening, returns from about thirty towns, embracing about one-tenth of the vote of the State. The ballot stands, thus far: Dillingham, 5,149; Davenport, 1,895. The same towns, last year, gave Dillingham 4,558 and Davenport 1,890. This vote indicates a gain to the Republican majority in the State over that of last year of about 500. Of the towns heard from on the Governor vote, all report Republican members of the Legislature but two. The Senate will, as usual, be unanimously Republican. In the Third Congressional District, where a hard fight has been going on between rival Republican candidates, there is no choice as far as heard from. The two candidates, Hon. Portius Braxter and Hon. R. H. Hoyt, about even. In the other two districts the Republican nominees are elected by handsome majorities.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

TUESDAY, September 4, 1866.

The New York stock quotations to-day, were as follows: Gold, 146⅝; 1881 bonds, 112; 5-20s, old, 112½; do new, 109¼; 10-40s, 99; 7-30s, 107½; do second issue, 106⅛. Michigan Southern R. R., 83¾; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 86¾; Fort Wayne, 103⅞; Erie, 72¾; Western Union Telegraph Co., 58; Chicago & Rock Island, 108⅞; Chicago & Northwestern, common, 35¾; do, preferred, 66¾.

—The New York Tribune, of Monday, says: The Sub-Treasury balance is steadily increasing, and it is understood that as soon as the temporary loans are paid off fully, the Clearing House certificates bearing interest at 4 per cent and redeemable in legal tenders will be called in. This step, so desirable to the Treasury, ending as it does the policy of call loans, is not looked upon with favor by the banks. It will oblige them to lock up in this city $25,000,000 legal tenders and lose interest upon the same. It will not add $25,000,000 to the current circulation, from the simple fact that being the medium of settlement at the Clearing House it will probably be reposited in a common center, and be represented in a new issue of Clearing House certificates. It is not reasonable to suppose that National Bank notes will be used at the Clearing House until an efficient system of redemption is adopted. They are not promptly turned into legal tenders in this city by banks supposed to redeem here under the law. Just now national currency is in active demand for the interior, and people do not discriminate against it. As soon as something like practical redemption is insisted upon, or the Secretary retires legal tenders to even the moderate extent allowed by law, national notes will take their true position as compared with legal tenders, and be sorted and sent home for redemption.

—The shipments of five twenty bonds for the past week, it is estimated, were probably not less than three millions. The insurance companies at New York have issued such a large amount of policies upon bonds that they have advanced their rates from ⅜ to ½ per cent, which is double the former rate.

—There has been a panic in Lake Superior copper stocks at Boston, with heavy decline. One operator has failed after given out $200,000 in his checks, which proved worthless. His broker has also largely overdrawn his account. The decline in Copper Falls stock was 25 per share, and Franklin 20.

—Of the proposed 5 per cent loan the Financial Chronicle says: "We learn from Washington that Mr. McCulloch is contemplating the issue this month or in October of the long delayed 5 per cent Government loan. He has by law the power to emit, if necessary, gold-bearing bonds to represent the seventy-three millions of temporary deposits he is now paying off, and also the certificates of indebtedness and other short-dated obligations which he has already met. There is also no doubt that the time will come when 5 per cent bonds of the United States will command par both here and abroad."

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, September 4, 1866.

The produce markets continue very quiet and a little weak, but, generally speaking, prices remain unchanged. The receipts of Flour and Grain are beginning to fall off again, though the stocks are fully up to the wants of the trade. In Provisions and Groceries, there is but little doing, and the same is true of many other commodities that we might mention.

ASHES—Demand fair and market steady but unchanged. Sales of 20 tons common Soda Ash at 6; 10 tons Refined do at 6½; and 6 tons Pearls at 15.

APPLES—As the supply is very much reduced, the market is firmer, but prices remain unchanged—selling at from $1,50 to $3 per bbl, as to quality.

GRAIN—Wheat is firm but quiet and unchanged at $2,30 to $2,35 for No. 1 Spring. Corn is selling at 75 to 80, as to quality, and the demand is a little more active. Sale of 1 car Western Oats at 38, in elevator. Rye may be quoted at 92 to 95. Sale of 2 cars old crop Spring Barley at 80.

FLOUR—Is quiet but steady, with a fair local demand, and prices are pretty well sustained. We continue to quote at $11 to $11,50 for Spring Wheat, and $12,50 to $13 for Winter Wheat brands. Sales of "White Star" at $11,75. Rye Flour is selling from store at $6,50, and Cornmeal at 95 per bush.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet but steady and unchanged at 17@17½c for Shoulders; 19@20 for Ribbed Sides; 22 to 23½ for Plain Hams, and 25@26 for Sugar Cured Hams. Small sales of Lard at 22 to 22½, and Mess Pork at $33,50.

MILL FEED—Sale of 4 tons shorts at $1,18. Seconds may be quoted at $1,35 to 1,45, and Middlings at $1,75 to 1,85, as to quality.

CHEESE—Is firm but unchanged at 15 to 16 for Western Reserve; 16 to 17 for Hamburg, and 21 for York State Goshen.

PIG LEAD—Sale of 500 pigs at 11¾.

BUTTER—There is a very good demand for strictly prime Butter, in small packages, with sales reported at 30 to 32. Packed Butter is quoted at 24@25.

EGGS—Firm with a very fair demand and light arrivals; sales at 20 to 22.

SEEDS—There is considerable inquiry for Flaxseed and but very little offering. Timothy Seed is selling at $4 to the trade, and $4,25 in small lots. No movement in Clover.

OIL—No. 1 Lard Oil is quoted at $1,70 to $1,74, and No. 2 do at $1,45.

LIME—Small sales at $2 per bbl.

SALT—Sales from store at $2,75.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, Sept. 4, 1866.

CRUDE—There is nothing doing in the Crude market, and while dullness and stagnation continue to be the ruling characteristics of the trade, prices are nominally unchanged—16 to 17, bbls returned, and 21 to 22, bbls included. The predictions in regard to the future are very conflicting. Some few entertain the opinion that even in the event of an early resumption of navigation and large receipts, prices will not recede materially, but this does not coincide with the views of the great majority of those engaged in the business. The great bulk of our refiners have contracted for Crude to be delivered on the first water, at prices considerably below the asking rates at present, and these as a matter of course, will not buy as long as they can possibly avoid it. There are others again who in case there is not a rise in the river soon will be obliged to buy at market price, in order to fill their contracts of refined, but this class is not as numerous as generally supposed. It is this that causes a certain class of holders to hold on in expectation of realizing a still further advance, and it is possible that their hopes may be realized, though it is hardly probable. We are cognizant of one dealer—who, by the way, is accused of being considerable of a bull—having bet three hats that if there is not a rise before the 10th of this month, Crude oil will be worth 20 cents by the first of October.

REFINED—There is no improvement to note in the demand for bonded oil, and the market is quiet and dull, though prices are nominally unchanged. We can report a sale of 500 bbls for September delivery, at 45, and this was the only operation reported. On the cars here, we quote nominally at 38 to 39, and 41½ to 45 for immediate delivery in Philadelphia. Prime standard brands of free oil may be quoted at 58@60c, while outside brands can probably be bought 2 to 3 cents below these figures.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil reported today were as follows:

Jas. Wilkins	202	Fisher & Bro.	500
Waring & King	55	Buffum & Kehew	100
McCreight & Co.	55	A. L. Linton	50
W. P. Logan	51

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, Sept. 4, 1866.

CATTLE.

There was a full supply of cattle on sale this week, between twelve and thirteen hundred head, of which about twelve hundred changed hands, the balance being left over for next week or driven over to the Central Yards. The market was more active than usual, owing to the fact that the wholesale buyers took hold pretty freely, and while upon the whole, there was apparently a firmer feeling, prices, as compared with last week, have undergone no essential change. Prime fat cattle sold without much difficulty at full rates, and even the commoner grades were sought after more eagerly than usual, there being a good many stock buyers in attendance. Barney Grey, who, by the way, has become one of the largest drovers in the west, was on hand, and as will be seen by reference to the report of sales, bought several of the best droves in market for shipment to New York, for which he paid from 7¾ to 8¾.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

There was a fair supply of Sheep on sale and with only a moderate demand the market was quiet, while prices remain about the same as last week. We quote at 5 to 6 cts, for fair to prime fat mutton sheep. Aull & Co. bought 227 head, averaging 95 lbs. from Emil & Fowler at 5 cts; and 67 head from Simmers, averaging 90 lbs, at same price. Lambs unchanged, selling at from $2 to $4 per head.

SWINE.

The retail demand for Hogs is beginning to improve somewhat, and as the weather gets cooler, butchers will take hold more freely. We quote at 10½ to 12 cts, for fair to prime heavy averages—in a retail way.

REPORTED SALES OF CATTLE.

Glass & Lafferty bought from O. Quick 16 head of steers and heifers at 6,35; sold for Samuel Warren 14 head fair steers at 6¾ to 8¼; sold on their own account 16 head at 6¾ to 7½, and bought 12 head bulls at 3½ to 4. C. Wolfe retailed 17 head of common Ohio cows and heifers at 5 to 6¾.

Kraus & Haas sold 60 head of extra steers to Gray, averaging 1385 lbs, at 8¾; retailed 35 head at 7½@8. Merrick & Doud retailed 20. Rothchilds & Eckert 54 head at 6½@8. Hanlin 21 head at 5½ to 8.

Marks & Traurman sold 29 head of good cattle to Grey, averaging 1200 at 8¼; retailed 118 head at 7 to 8½. Greenwald & Kahn retailed 67 head at 7¼ to 8. Moonshine & Metz 21 head at 7 to 8¾.

Myers & Needy sold 18 head to Andy Ackley, averaging 1200, at 8½; 24 head stockers, averaging 900, to Vanvoorhees at 6,30; 18 head of good cattle to Grey, averaging 1250, at 8,35; retailed 75 head at 6 to 8.

McCallister & Carr sold Myers & Needy 73 head, averaging 950, at 6½; 44 head to Rambow at 5 to 7; retailed 79 head at 5 to 7. A. Smith sold Rotchilds & Eckert 18 head of good cattle, averaging 1075, at 7¾.

O. Quick sold Krause & Haas 25 head, averaging 825, at 6; 68 head to Carr & McAllister, averaging 800, at 5½; P. Hartman retailed 24 head at 7,50 to 7,90; Jas. Morgan 25 head at 6 to 8¾.

Hazlewood & Co. sold 18 head, averaging 1100, to Grey at 7¾; same to same 34 head, averaging 1250, at 8¾; retailed 37 head. Trimmer to Hall 16 head, averaging 1000, at 6¾. Daube & Co. to Marks & Traurman 17 head, averaging 1190, at 6¾, 43 head to Landers, averaging 950, at 6¼.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

New York Stock and Money Market.

NEW YORK, September 4.—Gold closed at 146⅝. The Assistant Treasurer here disbursed $1,276,000 yesterday, and $237,000 in coin, as interest on the 10-40 bonds. The whole amount to be paid out is $450,000, of which $200,000 are disbursed at this point. The temporary loan account is nearly closed up, so far as the subtreasury here is concerned. The total amount paid out thus far is $32,000,000, and there is only $3,586,000 yet uncalled for. The government securities fell off this afternoon, owing to false reports from London of a decline to 72¼, but at the close there was rather more steadiness. The market has been quiet all day, and the volume of business light. The following are the closing prices: Coupons, of 1865, 108⅝@109; 10-40 Coupons, 99⅞@100; July 7-30's, 105⅞@106⅛.

The stock market, at the last open board, was firm, but without any special feature.

The Commercial's money article says: Affairs in Wall street are assuming a firmer tone, and show more activity. During the last few days a large amount of stocks has passed into the hands of parties who were temporarily bears, and who, having got the stock they wanted, are in turn active bulls. The new holders of stocks are a strong class of firms, and are likely, from their antecedents, to carry prices to a higher point than they have been this season, especially as the fall in the prices has given out a considerable short interest.

At this A. M., Board prices were ¼@¾ higher on the Railroad list. Governments are moderately active. Some purchasers of old 5-20s are made by foreign bankers 112@112¼. Other bonds are unchanged, but for the moment the tone on Governments is a shade weaker. Foreign exchange is rather firmer, apparently the result of the very low rate having bought out buyers, some of the new drawers are asking 109¼ for sterling, 60 days, but can't sell at better than 109⅛, which may be quoted the top price for actual transactions in prime bankers.

Money continues very abundant, the rates on call loans being generally 4 per cent, with exceptions at 5 per cent. Discounts are dull, owing to the extreme scarcity of bills, the supply being much behind the demand. Prime names range at 5@5½ per cent. Gold is weak but for the short interest, which is considerable. There appears to be nothing to prevent a decline in the premium. The market is sufficiently overstocked to cause the rate of interest on gold loans to range at 5½ per cent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The Post's money article says: Although there is much dullness, there is no depression, and an improvement in the prices of stocks is looked for. The loan market is easy at 5 per cent., with transactions in long commercial paper paper at 5 per cent., with more demand than supply. Stocks stagnant, but firm at the close, in consequence of a rumor of lower prices in London. Governments are decreasing at the close. New York Central, 103⅞; Rock Island, 109⅛; Hudson, 118; Illinois Central, 123¾. Foreign Exchange unchanged.

Stocks better; Fort Wayne, 104; Rock Island, 108⅞; North Western, 35¾; Reading, 113¾; Erie 72¾; Hudson, 118¼; New York Central, 102⅞; Ohio & Mississippi Certificates, 29¾; Sixes '81, Coupons, 112; 5-20's Coupons, '62, 111¾; 5-20's Coupons, '65, 108⅝; 7-30's, 2d series, 105⅞; 7-30's, 3d series, 105⅞.

At the four o'clock open board, the following were the principal sales: Western Union Telegraph, 58¾; New York Central ex D, 102⅞; Erie, 72⅞; Reading, ex D, B 3, 113⅝; Michigan Southern, 83⅞; Chicago, Rock Island & P S 3, 108⅞; Chicago & North Western preferred, 66⅜; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, ex D, 104; Gold closed at 146⅝.

New York Produce Market.

NEW YORK, September 4.—Cotton more active but prices are without any decided change, at 33@35 cents. Flour—Medium grades are steady, inferior dull and declining, while high grades are 15@25 cents lower; at $6,10@8,50 for Extra State, $8,20@[illegible] for Extra Round Hoop Ohio, and $10@12 for state brands, closing quiet. Milwaukee Market.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 4.—Flour dull. Wheat firm, at $1,85 for No. 1. Corn active, at [illegible] for No. 1. Oats advanced 1c.

Winona (Minn.) Wheat Market.

There are indications of a revival in the wheat trade, and before the close of the week our dealers anticipate receipts of grain sufficient to induce them to remain on the streets to purchase. Their warehouses have been put in order, and money drawers filled with currency, ready for the fall trade.

Wheat is coming forward in small quantities, and sells at $1,45@1,50 for new spring, and $1,60@1,65 for old No. 1. It is thought that a large share of the new crop will not grade No. 1, although it is a mere matter of opinion, as but little has been threshed out yet.—Republican, Aug. 28th.

RIVER NEWS.

The river rose a few inches during Monday night and yesterday and last evening the pier marks showed a little over two feet. The rise is out of the Monongahela, the Allegheny as yet, having risen but very slightly, if any. The weather yesterday was unsettled and warm, with indications of more rain.

The Leni Leoti, from Parkersburg, is the only arrival—she was somewhat behind time, having been delayed doubtless by low water.

The Van Buren, a new steamer in command of Capt. W. B. Nowland, is announced for New Orleans and all intermediate points forthwith, and the old Ida Rees will probably get off for Cincinnati to-day.

Sunday's St. Louis Republican says: We paid a visit yesterday to the hull of Captain Keiser's new Missouri river steamer, and found a most magnificent specimen of marine architecture. It is 217 feet in length, 43 feet beam, with 5½ feet depth of hold, and is extra fastened its entire length and breadth. It will be furnished with three high pressure boilers 44 inches diameter, 24 feet long, with five flues each; two engines with cylinders 18¾ inches in diameter, 6½ feet stroke, working two water wheels 26 feet in diameter, with 13 foot buckets. When completed this new steamer is expected to "trim" on 24 inches, and will without doubt be the lightest, finest and fastest steamer that ever entered the Missouri.

Capt. John Curry Watson, one of the oldest pilots in the west, and an upright and estimable man, died at Cape Girardeau last week, at the advanced age of seventy years. He served in the war of 1812, and located at Cape Girardeau in 1818. Phillip E. Hannum, an old captain and pilot on the Missouri river, died at St. Louis on Saturday night.

TRANSPORTATION CONTRACT.—By November 10th about one hundred tons government freight has to be delivered at Fort Rice, and about one hundred tons at Fort Sully. The contract was awarded on Saturday to Capt. Fred Dozier. The following were the bids, several others having been withdrawn upon learning about the stipulation as to time of delivery: G. G. Schofield; $6 per 100 to Fort Rice, $4,50 to Fort Sully; F. H. Specimen, $4 and $4; Fred Dozier, $4,43 and $3,48; Thos. Rea, $5,50 and $5,50; David Haney, $3,98 and $3,98.—St. Louis Democrat.

The St. Louis Times, of Sunday, says: There have been heavy rains at nearly all points north from here to St. Paul, and we presume that they have extended far south of here. It is evident that these rains have been extensive enough, to not only check the decline in the Mississippi, but to cause another swell. We do not suppose that a rise, if it does come, will last long, but there is a strong probability, in our opinion, that we are not destined to have much very low water this season. This reflection is a source of bitter disappointment to the owners of scores of light-draft steamers which have been idle for a long time, or running without making any money.

IMPORTANT TO SHIPPERS.—A dispatch from Memphis, received yesterday at the office of the Memphis and St. Louis Packet Company, states that the authorities of that city have prohibited the landing at that port of any melons, cabbages, green corn, fruits, or fresh fish.

We regret to learn that Col. J. H. Whitelaw, general steamboat agent in this city, is dangerously ill with cholera. He was attacked on Friday night, but yesterday evening he was not expected to recover. He had recovered from a similar attack about two weeks since.

The Cincinnati Commercial of Monday says: Captain Jacob Reemelin, a veteran in the trade, is commanding the United States Mail steamer Major Anderson, during the absence of Captain Frank Carter, whose deep affliction we have heretofore heralded. ...... The numerous friends of Capt. Hercules Carrol will be more than delighted to hear that he has fully recovered from his recent serious illness. Capt. Carrol is an old landmark. He has practically witnessed the progress of steam since its origin by Fulton. ...... The copious rain yesterday morning, caused the river to swell some eighteen inches yesterday. This rise is temporary, however, as the tributary streams above are all low and falling. ...... It was rumored along the levee last evening, that the Big Sandy packet Revenue had sunk. The report needs confirmation.

The Cincinnati Times says: Capt. Lew. Vandergrift, it is reported, has traded his boat for a fine farm in Posey Co., Indiana, including the stock which consists of a famous 1800 pound bull, stallion and a boar—a good trade we should judge. The Capt. is a thorough gentleman, and a good whole-hearted Captain. His river friends will be pleased to see this, though we think the bull rather heavy, and the boar like a hoax.

The estate of Henry Ames, Esq., well known on the lower waters, and who died lately at St. Louis, was valued at $1,500,000. It was divided as follows: $500,000 to his widow, $500,000 to her daughter at her first marriage, and $100,000 to the O'Fallon Institute, which is a liberal institution of learning. The balance of his property goes to his only son, a little boy eight years old.

THE NEW
Spring and Summer Medicine.
FLUID EXTRACT
SARSAPARILLA,
COMBINED WITH
Iodide of Lime,
PREPARED FOR
G. W. PETTES, BOSTON,
BY
James R. Nichols & Co.,
MANUFACTURING CHEMISTS,
MANUFACTURERS OF THE
ELIXIR PERUVIAN BARK
WITH Protoxide of Iron,
Which has become so favorably known as a
Tonic and Restorative,
By Physicians and Invalids in all parts of the country.

The new preparation, "SARSAPARILLA IN A COMBINATION WITH IODIDE OF LIME," presents one of the most prompt alterative agents in a form capable of exerting full action upon the system, and this in minute and pleasant doses. It is conceded that the alterative, resolvent, or tonic effects of Iodine, are exerted most decidedly when associated with other alteratives, in combination; and the Sarsaparilla seems to fulfil perfectly all the favorable requisitions.

The first effect usually observed when "SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME" is taken, is an increase of appetite, showing that it has tonic properties of a marked character. Its alterative effects are manifest in its ready combination with the blood and tissues. Pale, scrofulous women and children improve rapidly under its use, and the vital functions assume a healthy condition.

It is admirably adapted to a large number of chronic or acute affections peculiar to children. It is suited to them, both by the mildness and efficiency of Medicinal effect and the pleasant, attractive form of the remedy. It may be given for a long period where constitutional influences are desired, and no repugnance, or disinclination to take the syrup, encountered. In White-Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, and Distortions of the Spine, it should be given persistently, in moderate doses, until relief is obtained.

In the Spring of the Year, and during the Warm Weather,

The accumulation of morbid matters in the system seems to become manifest and very troublesome. Lassitude, Headache, Boils, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Pains in the Joints, Indigestion, etc., are very common. Nothing ever devised is better adapted to exterminate or drive off these affections than this new combination of SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME. No preparation like it, or which approximates to it as an

Alterative, or Blood Purifier,

has ever before been placed within the reach of invalids. Indeed, it is an entirely NEW and SCIENTIFIC combination in no respect resembling anything hitherto employed.

The opinion of medical men concerning it, the description of its chemical character, therapeutic value, manner of use, etc., are given in a circular, which can be had at the store of any and all first-class Druggists.

INSURE YOUR LIFE IN THE CHARTER OAK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF HARTFORD, CONN.

THE ONLY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY IN AMERICA that now makes and pays an Annual CASH DIVIDEND on the first and each subsequent payment of premium. Its CASH CAPITAL, an accumulation of $2,000,000, is securely invested in public stocks and mortgages of REAL ESTATE. It is now in its 18th year of business, and has paid to the widows and orphans of its members the sum of ONE MILLION DOLLARS. To this date not a single case of litigation has occurred, an evidence that liberality and fair dealing is a specialty with this Company.

The policies of this Company are not forfeited by reason of non-payment of premium after the second year. No payments required after ten years, but policies continue good through life.
